GRADUATES

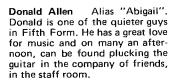

1973

Graduating Class of 1972

Paul Aarons "Soldier boy" is a devoted member of the cadet force. He is either seen or heard but never both together. A good scholar who makes the high grades in biology. A good spectator at most sports. A spirited Georgian who intends to be a Computer Programmer.

Alvin Anglin "Maggie" is one of those Manning players who believes that better must come. Cool at times except when food is present. Hopes to do electronics after St. George's.

Roberto Bardowell Biddie is a man of many hidden talents — the problem is that they are so well hidden we doubt he can find them — himself. Claims that the power for man's success can be found on the Constant Spring Road, I.C.H.S. Loves to dream of himself playing football. Excells in Physics and will be a mechanical Engineer.

Thomas Barker Thomas finds great pleasure in accomplishing any work that is challenging. Commutes to Spanish Town each day but not late once in five years. Hobbies are football and stamp collecting. Future lies in medicine.

Gregory Barret Zodiac can keep quiet longer than anyone else — finds it very dull to give trouble in class. One of those brains whom no one knows. This spectator loves to play football even if it kills him. Claims to see himself being head surgeon at the K.P.H. fifteen years from now with many beautiful nurses, most probably St. Andrew students chasing him.

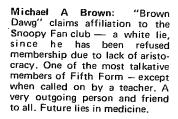

Clarence Bowen Co-Majie leader of the 5V classroom. Small body with a large mouth for consuming food and for deafening people. A great domino player who loves to watch cricket and football — a very good student when it comes to academics.

John Brash John is little but not to be underestimated. He will run any donkey into the ground-constant member of the track team. Always claiming to know the girl next door. Apart from being terribly afraid of teachers he does well in his studies. Hopes to be a pilot.

Gerald Brown: "Nguni" prides himself on his African ancestry. Lives in a world of his own. Quiet and reserved in class, but has very strong feelings on political affairs. Supports repatriation. Excels in health science. Possible future doctor.

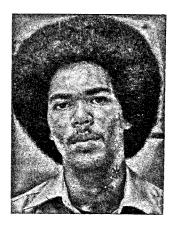

Michael Brown 'Mitty' is generally a quiet individual can be outspoken at times when he wants to be. Loves to play dominoe, another of the few deep ending on the season, claims to be Pele or Sobers. Excells in maths and hopes to become a Computer Programer.

Wayne Burey Burey can be found near a dominoe game. Tries his hand at every sport. Good at academics; girl crazy. A member of the Sodality and the Uhuru staff. Hopes to do law as a career.

Donovan Burnett: Donovan's bark is worse than any dog bite; but don't let that fool you ... under his aggressive hotheadedness is a very sociable youngman who stands up to his convictions whole-heartedly, when the time comes. A good student. Plays football part time and hopes to do Electronics in the future. Regis.

Donald Burke By popular demand Burkie is being asked to join the staff of Wolmer's Girl's School - we wonder why. Plays football for the Manning team.

Sees his future as a full time husband.

Joscelyn Campbell Gypsy is constantly showing his teeth whether the occasion warrants it or not. Hopes to play as goal keeper for Jamaica some day — some day mark you! A disgrace to the gypsy tribe. — can't even see into his own future.

Errol Cha: Dubbed "brains" Errol is an ardent chess player with a flair for his text books. One of the quiet individuals who manages with many friends. Claims to play tennis! Takes active part in the senior sodality, Uhuru and the Blue and White. Thinks of furthering his studies and becoming a chemical engineer. Xavier.

Dwight Chai Chang. "Leanhead" excells in the science and math subjects. Like skin-diving and horse-back riding. Captain of the Manning team. Hopes to do Business Administration.

David Chang David is the Mark Spitz of S.T.G.C. Greatest desire is to be an idol at Immaculate. Loves art and in general fast moving outdoor sports always trying to look at the two sides of a story. Good all rounder. Future undecided.

Peter Chang Peter is a secret admirer of English football. A born comedian even if his jokes aren't good all the time. Has no intention of showing off his big brains. Doesn't mind going to weekly spot as long as there is enough food for his big stomach. Hopes to pursue life in the field of Business Administration.

Andre Chin "Stultz" is a bit light in the head but makes up for it with his body weight. A member of the "Underground" it would be appreciated if he stayed there. Studies very hard and manages to hold his own in the class. A good friend who will do Business Administration for his future.

Allan Chin Quiet for most of the day, but not after school on the tennis courts at mixed doubles; also interested in table tennis. Collects stamps. Hopes to get rich overnight. Future undecided.

Dennis Chin Dennis is one of the many sports-minded students who can still be a brains. Lives for table tennis and really does everything to excel in the game. Brilliant in all his subjects. Sees himself majoring in accounts in the near future.

Elverton Chin Elverton is a studious cadet who would just love it if it was his nature to make trouble — tries hard enough though. Likes to do chemistry. Sees Alpha girls as schools of beauty queens. Fyture undecided.

Frederick Chin Freddy has the privilege of living in Spanish Town — spends most of his time in Kingston, especially at Alpha, the only place his jokes get laughed at. Partial to football, his future lies as a chartered accountant.

Kevin Chin Kevin is a member of the silent majority of 5III. Rumors have it that he is a secret faceman. According to reports he can always be seen at weekend spots, likes cooking and will be a doctor later in life.

Kirk Chin Ambitions to being a singer. A spectator of all sports. Often seen at the gate to Alpha. Wants to be a computer technologist.

Nicholas Chin Tries to be a comedian; the next Arnold Palmer of St. G.C. Loves to watch the girls walk by at the busstop. Hopes to go into business.

Terrence Chin: Terry's a trying footballer apart from doing school work taken as a serious sideline job. Although sometimes not asked for, he loves to give his opinion even in a heated argument — loves to smile at times however. Future lies in the field of Business Administration. Loyola.

Arthur Chin Fatt Bigga is the smallest member of the graduating class — but big hearted. Girls say he's cute, adults claim he is an angel but we know he comes from the wild west. Goes to the extreme to prove his point when he is already won. Does very well in class. Hopes to do Business Administration as a carrer.

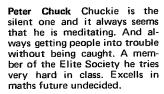

Lancelot Chin Fatt Lance is a quiet student who pays attention in class, but between certain hours he just laughs — no matter what. Backbone of the swimming team, he spends many an after school hour at the stadium pool. Future in Business Administration.

Jonathan Chin Loy Johnny is a talkative, but good student. Rates any music (dub or foreign) as good solid music — dives at Aquarius. Cannot see how he is such a good swimmer — fishes don't have long hair, or do they? Takes life as it is.

Michael Christopher "Flipsy" is a dread man who tells no one of his adventures. Has eyes for someone at XLCR. Plays football and likes swimming. Future undecided.

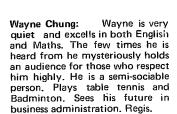

Ernest Chung Moony's the average student when it comes to the academic work. Doesn't mind sharing a joke with the class especially when the teacher is giving the point of the day's lesson. Can't be bullied unless he is wearing a shirt. A model member of the Cadet Force. He would love to do computer programming after leaving school.

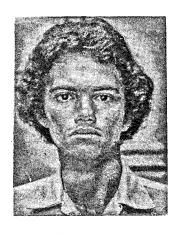

Peter Chung: If P.J. had just one wish from his fairy God-mother it would be to join the student body of Alpha Academy. A very pleasant person who seems to get along with anyone he meets. Does a good amount of school work and claims that he has no time for hobbies, guess why? Hopes to study Business Administration.

Horace Clarke Clarkie is a very popular student in fifth form and loves going to parties uninvited, he also like being a gate-flower. Don't know how, but he can always be seen surrounded by his fans at the bus stop. Another future accountant.

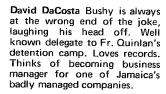

Mark Clarke Mark contributed greatly to the bringing back of the lost school spirit when he took top honours as class III Champion at the National Stadium for his school. An egotist who must succeed, Will study when the occasion arises. Admirer of the St. Andrew girls.

Michael Cooke A self acclaimed bad man from Harbour View, Cookie loves to play with the electronic gadgets — you know Ace 90's welders, glasses etc. Works hard in class and shuts his mouth. A lover of Physics and good rebel jokes. His future lies in electronics.

Marc Anthony Dabdoub Dabby is so reserved — no wonder he is a rich man. Has special interests at the I.C.H.S. A lover of the outdoor sports — cars, bird shooting etc. A hard worker at times. Gets high grades in Physics will pursue Business Administration.

Carl Dann If a prize for the school loyalty were awarded, Carl would be one of the few on the list. Fifth form, on the other hand, would be a lot quieter without him. He balances the business side of the "Blue and White" with football for fitness. A future accountant.

Peter Davis Rat can never be found in his cage, oops...desk. A face man with certain girls from St. Andrew. A hard worker by day and an equally hard playboy at night — even if it's only a dream. Loves to watch aeroplanes and desires to do aerodynamics for a career.

Vincent Davy "Barnabas Collins never carries more than two books which fills a large BOAC bag. Claims to be a "dread" from West. Sleeps too much. Excells in accounts. A Manning player whose future is nowhere in sight.

Wayne DePass It is said Dippy has a small brain, yet he excells in Maths and Health Science. Gives all his energy to playing football. Intends to reform the administration when be becomes an old boy. Likes swimming; has not yet decided on a future.

Calvert Dewar Callie is a co-Mafia leader of 5IV. Claims to be conscious poor man even though he is always the best dressed — a brains of no means if only he would settle down. A good friend who plays football skillfully. Future Accountant.

Andrew Dunbar: "Duck" is another verbose fifth former who prides himself on narrating his achievements, which include visits to a number of "distinguished places". Tries hard at football and athletics. Future lies in medicine or business administration.

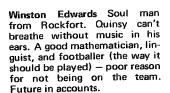

Hugh Dunbar Hugh hailed from Bay View although found in Harbour View most of the time. A good student who prides himself in being a good Georgian. Has high ambitions and if he continues will go a far way. Love Physics and will take up Electronics as a career. David Duncan David is the first and only student to give a teacher a demerit. A one man circus that performs 25 hours a day. A hard worker who appreciates the company of his many St. Andrews girls. Loves to play football, Excells in English and intends to be a Doctor.

Desmond Duncker: Desmond has a tendency to keep to himself, due probably to his being shy. Ready to give a smile when any problem arises. A mathematician who enjoys cycling... and taking people's pictures. Will seek employment in Data Processing. Regis.

Robert Edwards You name the game around school. "Snakes" either started them or is involved in them. Enjoys doing everything else except studying. A regular party goer who enjoys the company of good food and girls. His future lies in being a chartered accountant.

John Flynn: Unlike his name sake "Errol" Johnny just watches the Alpha Girls go by. Ninety percent of the school day he seriously devotes to his work and makes trouble the other ten percent. Can appreciate a good joke on or off the cricket or football fields. Imagines himself doing Business Administration. Campion.

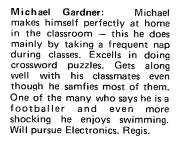

Allan Fong Don't be fooled by the quiet face of Allan. Does his work when he puts his head to it. Likes to daydream about the young lady whom he will defend from all intruders by force if necessary. A devoted member of the track team. He wishes to become an engineer.

David Foreman David hails from Harbour View; loves to spend his time cycling and coin collecting. Good at accounts and will further his studies before going into the business world.

Francis Frazer Frazel is always found in the depths of a heated argument. Likes to share his jokes even when he is laughed at in the end. Spends his time campaigning for school spirit. Finds himself as Sports Editor of the Blue and White newspaper. Tends to favour Business Administration as a future.

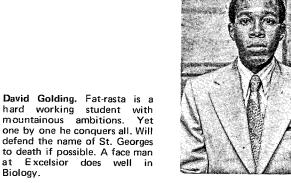

Patrick Garel Patrick is trying very hard to follow his brother's path of success. Finds enough time for his social life. Always busy with the science club and the Lance work. Would like to be intrested in sports - says he is too fat. Future Business Ad.

Everard Gibson Gibbo has the strongest right arm in the whole of fifth form proven by his powerful discus throw. One of those students who listens to his teacher. A warm and friendly chap who makes consversation with every girl he meets - even if she is a one year old baby. Future career law.

Derrick Gonzales: Reds is a very soulful man with an ambitious character being somewhat lonely and carefree. Regarded respectfully by his younger schoolmates or else! Ar. all rounder in every sense of the game as he swims, plays football, cricket and enjoys studying at times. Future undecided. Loyola.

Biology.

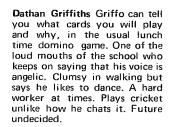

Peter Gooden Trackstar "Goodie" spends half of the day in deep meditation and the other half eating and sleeping. An active supporter of St. Andrews girls - definetely when it comes to watching the fillies passing through the school. An all rounder in academics, future undecided.

Howard Gouldbourne: "Soulburn" is a guy who takes life as it comes. Likes to think about his life in the future, also likes a lively discussion. Appreciates nice girls and would like to travel to get to know the world and find a suitable wife. Hopes to study poetry and philosophy. Twiddles his thumbs in his spare time. A future in automotive mechanics.

Donald Green A Johns Lane man who hails King Soul. A good mathematician who seems to be always calculating his next move on the football field. Worships the ground on which XLCR girls walk on. Future not vet decided.

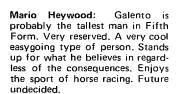

Derrick Hall Derrick is a brains at figures and anything concerning the application of figures. One of the leaders in S.T.G.C. money football association. Rated for his powerful jumple shots. Plays cricket to release himself from hard days school work. A future engineer.

Neil Henry "A diller a dollar a ten o' clock scholar", what going to happen when school starts at 7:30 a.m. Can be a lazy individual who has talents in almost every field. A great wicketkeeper and batsman for the Sunlight team. Likes to do maths and will pursue banking as a career.

Daniel Ho-Lung: Forever trying to be a coarse thing, but he is actually not as bad as he seems. Donny's outburst of witicisms are timely countered by his deep moods during which he ponders the subject of horseracing. One of those males who will do anything for anyone wearing a skirt. Plans to be a big business executive someday. Regis.

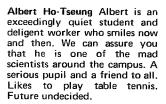

Michael Holung Michael's one of the "ristos" in 5IV. Takes money from heaven's dining room. Plays table tennis. Can achieve great heights in his studies if he would only settle down. An avid party fan. Likes to play football but finds that he is usually the ball. Future undecided. Peter Ho-Lung Do-Do is the clown of the class. Takes a joke beyond its limits. Whether he has brains or not will remain a divine mystery. Does well in maths. A girl fanatic who worships the ground that the I.C.H.S. girls walk on. A good footballer. Will do architecture for a living.

Paul Hoo If you have ever heard a dog talking it is more than you will ever hear from Paul. When questioned he answers without speaking if possible. A scripture brains who desires to specialize in the field of chemistry. Loves to draw on the blackboard while a heated argument goes on.

Steve Hugh Steve does his schoolwork between long periods of cheeky smiling or vulgar laughter. Philosophy: Girls are essential to mans life. Future can go any way.

Vincent Hyat "Rachael"

another one of those conscious brothers always trying to do more - a sure formulae for his success in life years to come.

Assures us that no one girl can turn his head. Has a flair for chemistry and will take up medicine as career.

Vernon Hugh: One of the most popular male figures at Alpha, 'Vernon is an avid party fan. Floats around on the idea that he is the perfect guy any girl would want. Excels in languages. Perfect gentleman to his friends.

Pierre Ivey "Fish" is one of the non-swimmers in school. A member of the mouth footballer team. So far the team has won every match. A diligent worker in the science club. Works hard in school as he intends to do electronics after school.

Michael Jones St. Georges answer to Wes Hall will go far in the cricket circles — about two feet tall. Excells in Biology and will pursue agriculture as a career.

Michael Karram Mickey is so crazy about cars that he is beginning to look like one. Even I.C.H.S. and its contents can wait. A good spectator of football. Plays badminton to some extent, does well in maths. Tells what he claims to be jokes.

1

Arthur Kelly The man with the most nicknames; suck a toe, "sledge head", "drop toe" and "thunder toe". Uses most of his brains to outwit the females ... the rest he donates to his books. Likes football and he is very interested in oceanography.

Aubyn Killingbeck Aubyn is a cool, calm and steady student. Likes to listen to music and also loves to read. Loves to stick to the quiet life. Sees himself as being an important businessman someday.

Montgomery Kong Charlie is truly a brilliant student who excells in all subjects especially maths. He ocassionally attends parties. He speaks out for justice and does so without fear of punishment. Wants to be a doctor in the near future.

Douglas Kong Dougle is short neat and silent, plays tennis as a sport and for a hobby. Member of the victorious team. Does well academically when he tries. Girls from Alpha are his specialty. Excells in accounts and hopes to do Business Administration.

David Lee: David is a very hard worker who could do much better if only he had all his energy where it is most needed. Proud of his numerous so called wise cracks which he gives by the hour — incidentally guess who is the one that always laughs at his jokes? Plays badminton and football doing a bit of swimming as light exercise. Regis.

Edward Lee Eddy is a firm believer in heavy exercising, especially his mouth. A lady's gentleman. Can't see anything more interesting than motor cycling. Holds the post of pictorial editor on the Blue and White Staff. Future lies in Business Administration.

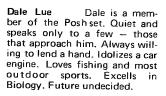

Carl Little Carl claims that if talking was money he would be a millionaire. Probably the most spirited in this years graduating classes. Finds himself President of the Sodality, Editor of the Uhuru Magazine and house captain of the Campion House. Plays cricket and football fairly well. Future in Business Administration.

Cavin Lowe Cavin is one of the many musicians of 5V. A good swatter of exams; has certain deep-rooted interests at Alpha. A member of Sodality and Uhuru. Future engineer.

Christopher Lue Chris can swat a history book like it was a classical novel. A brains. Listens to music to relax. Future in Architecture.

Derrick Lue Lulu loves football and wishes he could play it better, but better must come. Always an eye out for the ladies. Future undecided.

Richard Lue: "Baka" keeps away from the clan of mischief-makers and is always extremely attentive in class. Quiet when not riled. He does well in all subjects taking time out for cycling, reading and swimming. Wants to study Business Administration. Regis.

Howard Lyn Howard is a chess fanatic and it seems that he will never stop concentrating on the game. No one knows his thoughts or his line of reasoning. A good student who excells in all his subjects. Can't make up his mind on what career to pursue.

Junior Lyew Always dressed neatly. Plays lawn tennis when he is in the mood. Quiet but always with a smile. Future undecided.

Norman Lyn Tarzan is a bright student who considers himself the man for Alpha girls. Adores horse — racing. Future accountant and finds himself free of all hobbies. Makes trouble only when no teacher is around. Can make you a bigger fool by acting like one. Plans to take up accounting.

Roderick Lyn Roderick is a scripture scholar in every way. His hot temper is shown when people try to push him around. Still can't see what other boys see in girls. An ardent domino player. Wants to do Business Administration.

Stephen McKay Stella is a person who puts a big effort into trace. Brilliant and outspoken in more ways than one. Popular fan at the I.C.H.S. Enjoys watching every sports. A spirited student excels in Maths and Biology.

Courtney Macko A very quiet student who is always dressed neatly — a typical Georgian, that's Courtney. Laughs heartily at a good joke. A member of the Blue and White staff. Tries to do his best in anything he does. Future undecided.

Donald Macko Donald is the average hard working student.

President of the hairodynamics research board. Always asking questions, girls play a part in his life. Excells in History and will, reach for the profession of Medicine.

Delano Macko "Hop — Jing" believes that only the best is good enough . . . and what a formula for his success. Always questioning the teacher and will stop when fully satisfied. Only once in a while will you see him have a good laugh. Excells in English. Hopes to become an accountant.

Victor Maragh Bagdad must be the only laughing donkey outside of the zoo. Gives trouble in a sly way never getting caught. Many students wonder how he has such a big flock among the girls. Thinks of being a Lawyer.

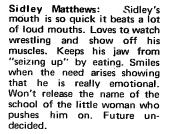

Kevin Martin wants to grow an Afro. Says he will be called to the bar in 1982 (Wray & Nephew). Promises to defend all women for free. Excells in all his subjects.

Mark Martin Mark is very outspoken in class — can get his point across even in a noisy situation. Loves cricket and football even though he himself cannot take part in the games. Excells in Maths. Future undecided.

Christopher Matthews Matty is even quieter than a church mouse — it's a mystery he's such a popular faceman in the girl schools. Winner of the Felix Unger Award for neatness. Tries hard at his schoolwork and will make it if he continues. Excells in maths and hopes to do medicine as a career.

Stephen Meghoo Stephen does girl watching full time and school work the rest of the time. Manages to get good marks when under pressure. Likes football and swimming. Will go abroad to further studies in engineering.

Norman Mon Sue A quiet student who tries to be dread as possible outside of class. Adept at many games, his favourite being table-tennis. His mystifying behaviour and appearance attracts many girls. A philosopher in class. Hopes to pursue course in psychology.

Michael Muirhead Good student but rather talkative. Active member of the clubs on campus, a loyal Georgian. Likes swimming and table tennis; hopes to do architecture.

Wayne Morris Bravo's motto "Know Party, will travel". Love to beat around the bush before coming to his jokes. A lover of soul music. Cricket. Future career - Law or Accountant.

Lorin Munro: "Scavy", a secret faceman, tries to keep his adventurous social life quiet. His skill at football is marred only by his laziness to get to the ball. A self acclaimed "nyah" who hails to King Tubby's HI FI, Future undecided. Loyola.

Michael Neil Always trying to rate himself as a domino player. A good student; plays cricket with buttered fingers and football with a hole in his foot. Well liked by his classmates. Future undecided.

lan Parkin Yummy finally made his class football team. This shows just a small amount of his determination that will in time take him through life successfully. He loves to join an argument especially on the losing side. Another Harbourviewer who claims Alpha is Paradise?? Wants to be a chartered accountant.

Peter Phang Peter is ready to express his views on subjects concerning school life. Does everything slowly but surely. He speaks when he is spoken to — one reason why he is so quiet in class. Loves a car engine though he can't tell a radiator from a spark plug. A mere admirer of girls. Future undecided.

Carlos Pinchin: Carlos is a fast moving young man who loves fast moving things, especially the horses at Caymanas. A friendly face in the elite "with it" gang; does well at History. Can't imagine life without a fast car. Sees himself a fit manager for one of the sky scraper hotels five years from now. Regis.

John Preston Johnny tries to be present in every argument. Does very well in his academic work. A bit shy but will manage very well with the girls Admires anyone who can kick a football with some accuracy. Future lies in Electronics.

Donald Poulton Another of the power mouth Cadets. Jokes about everything. Enjoys a good tracing session with "Mamas".

Likes to watch football being played. Future lies in aeronautics.

Eric Ramsey Zubie is a bright student who shows a flair for languages. Always willing to help out. doesn't mind an occasional party where he forgets all his problems. A bit shy but a gentleman with the fairer sex. Tries to talk patios when he's among friends. Future scientist.

Robert Reid: Reidy is usually laughing or giving somebody something to laugh at. Reads the chemistry book as if it were the Sunday Gleaner. Another member of the consciousness group; never takes injustices. A member of the history club and debating club. Intends on being a surgeon some day.

Raymond Richards: Big bird is seldomly provoked and no wonder why — he's over six feet tall. Can be quiet when he wants — like in the presence of girls. A well behaved student who is capable of doing good work. Likes reading and fish. Thinking of being an architect. Regis.

Rory Robinson Rory can't understand why nobody won't recognize that he is Pele. Very forceful. Has special interest in Queens H.S girls. Hopes to get a million dollars someday and live on the Top of the Blue Mountain Peak in a forty room house. Will be an accountant even if it kills him.

Jack Rosen: "Plucked duck" is more of a sportsman than a school boy. He tries hard at everything he does — a definite show of ambition. Can't see anything in Alpha girls but goes wild over those from Immaculate. Does shooting, water skiing and spear fishing on weekends; enjoys a good game of squash. Future as an architect or an airline representative. Bellarmine.

Edwin Russell Flip is lanky. However, he makes up for it by having a photographic memory which enables him to butter Physics without taking notes. Very interested in the future of a certain Queens girl. Loves the keeping of pets as a hobby. Further Engineer in the making.

Anthony Scully Scully is always on the teacher's side, telling the class to shut-up; then everybody listens to his jokes or to his childish pranks. A member of the St. G.C. Afro-Community; likes playing football. He is an ardent girl watcher at Cross Roads. Future accountant.

Carl Scharschmidt:

a born cadet who would die if he missed a camp. A spirited Georgian who practises self discipline not only in his studies but appearance, attitude and all. Never loses his temper being always ready with a smile. Finds cycling a necessity. Plans to help Agriculture in Jamaica. Campion.

Sharky is

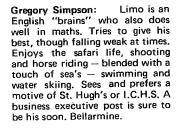

Paul Shaw missed the Flip Wilson Show? You can hear the big bud with the previous night version every Thursday morning at eight without any commercial breaks. The most talented musician on campus. Still afraid of the fairer sex he says they are "frightening". Finds school a trouble but will manage to be a concert pianist after leaving school.

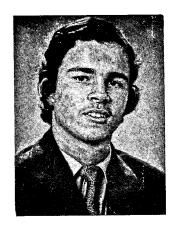

Winston Shim Winston likes to relax at any golden opportunity-every time the teacher is not looking. Adores pretty cars. Moves with the brains hoping a little will rub off on him. Finds girls attractice. Another football spectator. Will do further studies in mathematics.

Garfield Simpson Gary is usually chatting between the spasm of laughter which frequently overcomes him. Excells in maths and always argues a point very well. Well known at every girls school and can be very friendly. Future doctor.

Radcliffe Simpson Simmo is a genius with car engines. Does well in maths. On the opinion poll he would be quite popular if he were not so quiet in class. The girls flock him at every chance. A pity he never has a pen for autographs — Future ambition lies on the path of a computer programmer.

Junior Smith:

doctor.

Jerry Smith Jerry is a classical comedian who indulges in every kind of trickery. He would make a good salesman — always on good terms with his teachers. Carries a small comb around for other reasons than combing his hair. Enjoys watching football and it is the best thing for him to do, just watching. A very good English student.

Robert Smith: Smitty is one of those you can't dislike. Loves cars more than books; in fact he is a Volkswagen fanatic. Does cycling because he can't afford a car of his own — still on wheels, eh? Has a flair for football, especially playing the spectator. Can't make up his mind what the future may hold for him. Campion.

scious and devoted student who strives for perfection. His sense of humour takes understanding.

Always trying to get in his point as solely right. Excels in maths and has intentions of becoming a

Junior is a con-

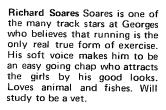

Ronald Smith Jnr.: Laddie's the last one to awake at the lunch bell but the first to reach the cafeteria. A studious chap by day and Mr. Soul by night. Would have scored more goals if his hair didn't act as a wind barrier. Loves to go fishing. Future lies in Business Administration. House Captain. Manning team and track team. Xavier.

Hugh Smythe Hugh is a student who does everything possible to get high grades. Loves to shock people. Hungry to own a girl from Alpha. Enjoys African history. Teacher finds him a pet to control. Thinking of taking up electrical engineering as a career.

Donet Soares is a quiet, refined student — at times. His occasional fits of laughter are usually between the first three classes. A master at biology practical. Tries very hard at his school work but never seems to get through. Can't see his future yet.

Richard Spence Richie would be a model of the perfect student if only he would calm down at times. He plays table tennis for the school. Another one of these playboys who has a fan club at I.C.H.S. — Thinks that he is "Pele" on the football field especially when feminine eyes are watching. Will do Business Administration.

Fred Tai: Fred is normally a reserved student who is often seen but seldom heard, but comes alive when he's with the right crowd. Avid coin collector who delights in associating with the fairer sex. Potential party goer if he had the time. Future: undecided.

Marc Taylor Alias swamp hog, Red — Hog and Festa. A very skillful Table Tennis player who covers his academic brilliance by his mischievous pranks. Likes to believe that everyone is afraid of his strength — actually his mouth. Consumes food all day long. Will become a Construction Engineer.

Robert Taylor: Bobby can be serious when he's ready. He splits the school day between paying undivided attention in some classes and giving lectures on the benefits he gained from last Saturday's "spot". Railed only when given a demerit which he has not deserved. Digs dancing to pop music and swimming. Future lies in Accountancy, Bellarmine.

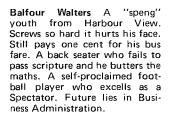

Michael Tenn: "Tenemus" is another of the quiet reserved group of fifth formers. Tries hard at his schoolwork. Mike enjoys reading in his spare time. Plays football and cricket. Future lies in engineering.

Robert Tenn has a novel brain in the making. A good companion in crime — he always keeps his mouth shut. Donates one day a week for a girl. hunting spree at any of the local jungles — Cross Roads, Half Way Tree . . . Future in Accounts.

Oliver Thompson Batoo is a scientist at heart. Loves cricket football and table tennis. A campaigner for students' rights on campus.

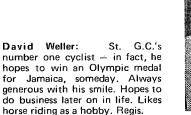

Howard Webb: "Webbo" is a friendly jovial guy who can always be found playing dominoes. Enjoys giving stale jokes in his spare time. Excels in physics and sports. Future lies in electronics.

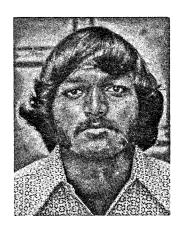

David Weir: "Mammas" should be nominated for the 1972-73 Oscar Maddison Award. A devoted Georgian who finds his tastes appreciated greatly. A good all-rounder. Undecided as to what the future holds.

Richard West Every morning Wesso walks into the classroom with a dread screw on his face and everyone laughs. Hardly takes anything serious except his school work. Future Electronics Technologist.

Carlysle Williams Willie is the man with the sense of humour that attracts many friends. Doesn't give his opinion unless he has something worthwhile to back it up. He is a brute force footballer and a logical domino player. Future undecided.

Garfield Williams: Willie believes in serious studying for success. Tries to be all of the top ten in one — actually somehow it sounds good the way he puts it. Always ready with a joke which usually ends on him. Plays Badminton, swims and does a bit of stamp collecting. Hopes to further his studies. Loyola.

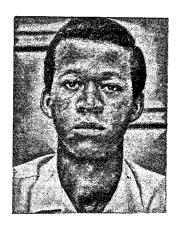

James Williams Willie is another Spanish Towner. Makes his own commandments . . . "Thou shall not sleep . . ," in religion classes. Most teachers appreciate him or rather are now accustomed to his ways. A good mathematician and biologist. His future will be in accountancy, law, or Business Administration.

Anthony Wilson: Tony's a hard working student who mixes work with laughter. Believes that he has got what it takes to be Englebert Humperdinck the second. A merry girl watcher. Moves with the latest fashions. Finds pastime for water skiing, cycling, cars and motor cycling. Hopes to take up his dad's business i.e. Security Guards. Bellarmine.

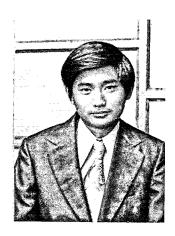

Michael Wilson: A good natured student who makes a point to let people know what he thinks. Always trying very hard and will help anyone, anywhere, any time. A good Georgian. Excels in history and hopes to pursue Law as a career.

Anthony Wong Bloomer is a man who, literally eats, sleeps and drinks war. Finds a book on war very relaxing from a hard days work. Does his best in chess or at anything he touches. He has the distinction of being Company Quarter master, Sargeant of the St. Georges College Cadets. Hopes to do medicine.

Maurice Wong Maurice can be quiet when he want to. More popular than ever since he has been driving his Falcon. Cannot yet decide on his future.

Howard Wong Howie expects to achieve a distinction in the subject of sleeping. Does well in applied maths, plays football, will be a mathematician.

Peter Wong: Wong U is a good student and valuable friend. If hair were worth something he would be worth his weight in gold. Sees Immaculate girls as divine super beings made especially for Georgians. Excels in Economics and hopes to do Business Ad. as a career.

Richard Wong Kew gifted guitarist who claims that he is a conscious youth man looking for peace and love in all. Plays chess. Future undecided.

Michael Wright: Spinxy is a quiet student who suddenly becomes outspoken when football is being discussed. One of the good guys, he plays Mannings football for the school. Excels in Maths and hopes to go into accountancy.

Howard Young Circis is a very jovial chap. He can do his work competently but finds that fooling around is more fun. None-the-less his grades are high. Likes to think himself a face man at I.C.H.S. Now and then one of his jokes will be laughed at. Will do either medicine or become an accountant.

Michael Zadie: Michael has a frame of quietness about him. Has a will greater than a mountain. Hopes to be Mr. Jamaica in the near future. A member of the track team. Excels in Accounts. Hopes to do management as a career.

IN MEMORIAM

After only a week of school in September, the St. George's College Community was greatly saddened to learn of the tragic death of third former Michael Moulton who was struck down from his bicycle in a road accident. Michael was a tall, lanky, very likeable young man, every one's friend. Shortly before Michael's death he visited a fellow classmate, Paul St. A. Shaw, already confined to bed with the advanced stages of Hodgkin's disease.

On the 28th of February, Paul St. A. Shaw of 2F, died at 15 years of age. For three years almost, Paul had fought for his life against this mysterious disease to the inspiration of his family and school friends who went to visit him. "Amen" at his reception of Holy Communion only two days before his death, was to be his last word.

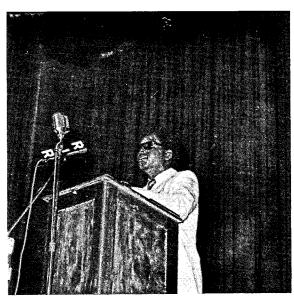

While we remember them sadly we also pray to God to look kindly on them. At the same time we thank God for having known such good young men and fine Georgians.

AUTOGRAPHS

VALEDICTORY SPEECH

Robert A. Delapenha

Your Grace Archbishop Carter, Dr. & Mrs. Aubrey Phillips; Very Rev. Fr. Rector and members of the Board; Rev. Fathers; Teachers; Parents, friends and fellow students:

Tonight, as you must realize, is a very special night for us, the members of the Graduating Class of 1972. Indeed I regard it an honour and a very special privilege to speak on behalf of my fellow Graduates, and so it is that in their name I extend to you a very warm welcome.

Our early years have been enjoyable ones despite the challenges we sometimes had to face. These years we will cherish for the rest of our lives all because you, our parents, were always ready to lend a helping hand in the time of our greatest need. Whatever the problem was we knew we could depend on you. You have once again demonstrated your unselfish and loving interest in us by being present here tonight. Deeds like these could never be repaid or even thanked with mere words, but chiefly by our actions. I trust that our future years will be a fitting tribute to you.

Indeed, we are greatly indebted to all our teachers, who through their patience and understanding, when getting the message across to us may have been difficult, have made it possible for us to be here tonight.

Especially to our beloved Frs.: Hennessey, McCluskey, O'Toole and Mr. MacKay, who for two years have filled us with a yearning for scientific knowledge, to them we extend our sincere gratitude.

We also thank Messrs. Chaplain, Rupley and Vermillion who undertook the difficult task of teaching us the logical way to understanding Mathematics. We also remember gratefully Messrs. Donaldson, and Wilson, who gave us an understanding in the field of the Arts subjects, and particularly Messrs. Allen & Doody, when English was a foreign language to most of us.

How can we ever thank a man who has been like a father to us for the past five years. A father in every sense of the word he was, as Principal, disciplinarian physical and spiritual guardian. A man who always managed, to our bewilderment, to be around when we were up to mischief. I refer to none other than the ever popular "Quintus" — Fr. Leo F. Quinlan.

I could continue in this trend of thanksgiving for the entire night, but to sum it up — pardon me for quoting the words of Winston Churchill — "Never has so much been owed by so many to so few".

During the years we have spent at St. George's, we have changed considerably. We have grown from irresponsible, self-centered lads to mature-thinking young men. And almost synonymous with this our outlook on the world around us has also changed. Tonight as we stand on the threshold of the world, awaiting us, saying goodbye to our Alma Mater and our classmates, with tear-moistened eyes, most of us are aware of the socio-economic problems, existing in Jamaica. These problems we have inherited and it will be the duty of us the young adults of today, to help towards creating a lasting solution to these problems for the benefit of all concerned.

We were fortunate enough to have been born into the families of which we are now a part. Food, clothes, housing and schooling meant little or nothing to us because they were always "there" provided for us by our parents. But what about the unfortunate youngster, who through no fault of his own is not able to obtain these basic necessities of life? What will become of him later in life? The odds are very heavily against his making life a success, even from the humblest point of view. Since we have been fortunate enough to obtain the facilities through no merit of our own, then it will be up to us to help our poor, unfortunate brother.

Armed with the Christian love and determination given to us by our parents and teachers, it will be our duty to fight, like our patron St. George did, the vicious monster which has its grips on the country in the form of violence, poverty, social injustice, malnutrition, illiteracy and countless others.

Already a step has been taken by the government in this direction with the introduction of the National Literacy Project. Most of us, I am sure, would be willing to cooperate in this venture by devoting some of our spare time so that somebody less fortunate than we are, might be able to obtain the very basic education needed to make even the humblest start towards a decent life.

But this is only the beginning; hopefully other similar national projects will be initiated by Government and by private enterprise. I am confident that whenever and wherever our assistance is needed for the good of our country and our fellowman, the Graduates of St. George's will be only too happy to comply. — Ad Majorem Dei Gloriam — To the greater glory of God.

A Day in the Life of a Good Man

by Dennis A. Lyn - Bronze Medal Winner in

Suddenly the wind rose and carried the dust swirling in the night. Then it died. Mart was a shapeless figure in the dark. His clothes being the colour of dust, blended with the surroundings. It was different from usual, the night; it made him rather nervous. Maybe it was because he lived in a cemetery. No, it couldn't be that. After all, what could they do to him? He was high priest here. Still, the night somehow made him nervous.

There was no moon. It was so black, dark. Black like his skin. Nothing, that was all he could see. It was mighty queer, looking up so hard his eyes hurt, and yet, seeing nothing. Sometimes, he would feel dizzy, as if he could float right out of this world. Other times, the black sky was an impenetrable barrier, crushing him, choking him, and he, all the while, struggled to be free, to breathe, to escape from that damn nothingness that enveloped him. No, he didn't like those nights. Especially those unseen chirping crickets. Why in heavens did they have to keep up that infernal chattering? A frog croaked. Mort stood there invisible and he then walked on to his hovel. The foundation was of brick, but it was built mainly of brick and cardboard. Mort stopped and unpinned some clothing from a line. A withered cottonwood tree planted its roots by the far corner. There was no door to the place and he walked through the entrance. A lone candle helped to make the place illuminated. Mort Johnson was a cadaverous man, black in complexion, with a stiff mechanical gait as if his joints needed oil. Long, varicose veins streaked his skeletal arms. His sagging jowls and melancholy mouth made him look like a bloodhound. His hollowed eyes were nearly always half-closed, while a brown hat rested on his balding head. A crucifix was nailed to the wall and some cheap decorations hung from the ceiling. He pushed aside his saw and plane and took out a Bible from the drawer. This began his Friday night ritual. Opening the Bible to the marker, he read the passage: Matthew 23. It was one of his favourite passages for there was a passing rhythm to it - rushing to the climax, "Woe unto ye, Scribes and Pharisees, for ye are like whited sepulchres which indeed appear beautiful outwardly, but within are full of dead men's bones and of all uncleaness.

These passages always made him thoughtful. Sometimes Mort was so deep in thought that he would close his eyes to think better. You could not even wake him in the morn. He wasn't particularly thoughtful that night so he decided to take a walk to tire himself. He struck for the lighted road because the night made him nervous. A car hurried by. Just ahead of him on the other bank was a beggar, a clearly defined figure in the light. Plaited locks crept from under the high shapeless hat on his head. His eyes looking down, were never focussed on anything in particular. He was probably a drunk or a ganja-man. His mouth was shaped in a queer half-smile. He was short, wearing a patched and torn jacket and a one-leg pants with a slit up the knee. He held a bag over his shoulders. It was heavy and with each step it drove him to his knees. Nevertheless, he continued toward his destination. He was so alone. Walking swiftly past him, Mort caught the smell of urine mixed with disinfectant which came from the beggar. At his side was the cemetery and the newly-built mausoleum with the pretty mosaic of Mary loomed up before him. The creeping flower clung to the fence and weeds grew everywhere. A dug up grave made him think of the grave near his home. It had been dug more than two weeks ago. One could walk into it in the dark without poticing it. He wondered how it felt to be in a coffin down in the grave. Did the earthworms go through the box? Maybe they crawled all over your face. How did it feel to be dead? He had read something in the Star about a man being brought back to life while on the operating table. The man had said that it felt good. The question troubled Mort since he first thought of it and his curiosity was very strong. He had a crazy notion to kill himself. Death was so far away and he couldn't find out about it. Would he go to heaven right away? Or would he have to wait until judgement day in 2222 to come to face with his Father? Do the dead feel anything while rotting? Does it hurt? Can they smell themselves? If, as they say, only the skeleton is left, where does the spirit go? Maybe if they don't bury him right away, his spirit would roam about looking for a body and when Judgement Day comes, he couldn't go to heaven. No, that couldn't happen, he had fixed that up with the obeah man. He had paid the man five pounds. Ten dollars. Death must be a good thing. Heaven must be a good place.

Mort's mechanical gait took a self-satisfied step. He had walked quite a distance. He stepped on something soft and flexible, nearly slipping, while crossing a road. Looking hard, after gaining his balance, a stench nearly knocked him out. The decomposing body of a dog was in the pothole. He couldn't understand how he did not smell it until he was right upon it. The street was dark, but a feeble light shone from the lamp. It must have been because he didn't look closer. Yes, that was it. God, it smelled!

(Cont'd. on page 36)

A cold breeze blew up, but he felt nothing. He moved slowly and silently like an intruder. He crossed a street. The place was dark and quiet. Everyone was probably asleep. Only a few were awake. He looked up and saw the blackness, as if he were trapped, as if the light could not come through. It wasn't only he in the room, everyone was. For a long while he walked, roaming listlessly without a destination.

At a stop sign, he decided to return. The whistle of the peanut man sounded in the distance. He crossed the bridge with its foul smell of gully water underneath. Apartment buildings rose in the background, contrasting with the old shacks on the foregound. He couldn't see anyone. He heard voices down the road. That surprised him. Then he heard a cry. He came to a stop. Maybe he should go and see if somebody needs his help. No, it was none of his business. Why should he get hurt meddling in someone else's business? Besides, others must have heard the cry also. No, he mustn't think like that. After all, if he was in trouble, he would want someone to help him. But what would he get out of it? Nothing. He might even be injured and how'd he pay his bills? He wouldn't be of any help injured. Alright, he'll look. It was down a dead-end lane. There were at least six bicycles parked at the corner. He went on his knees looking like a dog and crawled behind some barrels. There were five, no six youths who were attacking someone. The attackers were all about the same age, about twenty. The backs of three faced him. They all seemed to be wearing the same type of clothing. Their trousers were too short and very dirty. Their shirts were buttoned only at the top. They wore spectacles. Rasta tams and Rasta caps were on their heads. At least two had ratchets and the others had whips. The victim had no shirt and his face was bloody. The leader of the gang, a particularly ugly fellow with a scar on his face, was playing with his ratchets. He spoke sadistically in short bursts punctuated punches, whippings and slashings.

"Kneel down," he snarled to the sprawling figure. "Yu t'ink yu tougher dan we. Crawl, yu hear." A punch knocked the person back. "Brave, brave, Scotty. 'Memba w'at yu do me two weeks ago. Well, yu get it back now. Ha. Ha. Ha." Apparently, the figure on the ground was a member of an opposing gang. A whip cracked and an unearthly groan came from the youth. "A yu did mek me go jail. Yu never did know me did have friends. Yu never did t'ink me catch up with yu. Yu don't know me. Never forget that. Me always catch up. Ha, ha, now go ha, get a chance fe' memba dat. Ha, ha, ha." He was choking with laughter. Then he stopped. A wide smile split his face. "Hey, 'memba dat Django show we did go to.

Yeah, that one! 'Memba how Django cut off the man ear? Mek we do it with him." The beatings had stopped. Mort's fingers had touched a sticky liquid. Spit. The leader held the ratchet over the ear of the youth. Then he used it like a saw. It was an eternally long time before he was through. A bloddy rubbery object lay on the ground. It didn't look like an ear at all.

Someone came running. It was the beggar. In his mincing run, he ran to help the victim. He tried his best, but he was weak and they outnumbered him. Vainly, his small arms flailed, but they knocked him down. Someone had used a knife on him for a spurt of blood came from his side.

Mort went away before they were finished. He fairly ran away from them. Imagine, he thought, the leader was wearing a Rasta tam. He couldn't be a Rasta. They were like the Pharisees in the Bible. Whited sepulchres! That was what they were. The Lord was right. Rasta clothes on the outside, but inside, dirt. He chuckled bitterly. He knew whose grave that was, the one that was dug up. Dead Man. Yes, that was who. He felt sorry for the old man, the poor old man. He very seldom had any breaks. When he tried to go up, life would lick him back down. And now this happened. He should have stayed out of it. Like Mort. He couldn't have helped the boy. Now he is injured, might even be dead. He was a fool. To think that they called themselves Rastafari. Whited sepulchres!

The place was silent still. He was in the cemetery. He knew it. The mausoleum with the pretty mosiac of Mary was behind him. He must be near his house then. It was pitch black for the street lights were well behind him. At least he saw his hovel's silhouette. He stepped in a hole, a deep rectangular pit. The dead dog still smelled. He could not run away from the hole. He lay there, his face resting in the soil, kissing it.

The following Sunday, a roly-poly man with solemn eyes looking from under spectacles, stood at the head of Mort Johnson's grave. Half-naked urchins laughed, to the indignation of the crowd. The spectacled man was finishing his eulogy,..."The Lord knows he was a good man. St. Peter will gladly open the gates of heaven for our dear departed friend. He wasn't one of those Pharisees, Our Lord righteously attacked. He went to church every Sabbath day that I know of. But the Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away. He took Mort's life, but he gives him eternal life. Do not pray for him, instead pray that we may follow in our brother's footsteps. For dust thou art and to dust thou shalt return. Remember these words — Genesis, Chapter 3, verse 19." He closed his Bible and they lowered their good brother Mort into his home.

Post-Graduates

Milton A. Hardie Head Boy. Rarely does one encounter an individual with the proper concept of leadership. Here is such a man. This magnanimous person strives relentlessly to serve the students whom he represents as Head-Boy rather than have them serve him. Possesses such charm and eloquence which never fails to inundate anyone who ventures within his sphere of influence. Makes idols of movie starlets and may even break into show business him-self. "Bumps" is a vanguard element in the movement for change. A dynamic medical career is in the making for this Titan. Head-Boy; Student Council President; Science Club President; Mendel Club; Sports Committee; Football; Cricket; Regis.

Earl McEachron Asst. Head Boy. The blood of a Koromantyn pulsates within his veins and permeates his entire being. This giant of a man possesses such a fierce pride and fighting spirit. A true sportsman in every sense of the word. "Pele" has excelled in football, cricket, track, baseball and softball. He denies vehemently that his success with girls is any less colourful than his athletic conquests. A fine mathematician of the inspired type. A gentle and very winning personality will carry Earl to success all through life. Assistant Head-Boy; Vice President of Student Council; Asst. House Captain for Campion; Science Club; Sports Committee; Manning Team; Track Team.

Wesley G. Atkinson: "Acky is somewhat patient and reserved due to his long memory and intellect. Nevertheless he is rather frequent with angry outbursts. His speed on the track is surpassed only by the quickness of his wit of which sarcastic remarks are his speciality. Reputed elocutionist, debator and writer, he is a future industrialist. Track Team, Debating Society, History Club, Science Club, Lance, Student Council. Campion.

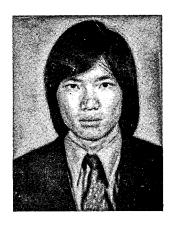

Ray Bahadosingh Suave and sophisticated. A master of rhetoric. Black intelectual in his highest state of evolution. Highly cultured yet is intransigent when convinced of his correctness. Reserves high esteem for Marcus Garvey and George Jackson. Likes Bob Marley and the Mighty "Sly Stone". His ambition is to become a Medical Doctor.

Hector D. Blair: A quiet student in a rather boisterous class, "Digo" is mostly heard when doing a rendition of Al Green's. His exuberance in sports is exerted to the fullest extent whether he is playing cricket or football. A strongman of 2-6-A, he is a dilligent worker whose ambition is to be Jamaica's best Prime Minister. Sunlight Team, History Club, Bellarmine.

Wilson Chang Fatt "Heads" — a man with a warm and generous personality coated in a sheet of conservatism. Infrequently, "Heads" becomes the focus of attention by uttering some witty remark. A brilliant student who works very hard but never becomes bogged down by scholastic tasks. Science Club; Regis.

Harry Cheng Harry is a generous, easy going character who has the priceless gift of getting along with people. Loves the party scene. However Harry does not allow this to interfere with his school work. Science Club.

Peter Chung Long hair is no criterion of human values neverthe less this cat is a Monarch in his own rights. Lover of all creative forms of expressions, he feels voraciously on the writings of Kabil Ciliron and Claude McKay. Superficially quiescent, nevertheless the foetal stages of some idea is always kicking around in his mind. Future lies in medicine.

Paul A. Davis Einstein of 2-6-A, Pablo is thoroughly unpredictable especially in speech where he lapses from English to Spanish and vice-versa, at the wink of an eye. Secretary of the Student Council, his minutes display a remarkable knowledge of the English language. A self-proclaimed Spanish poet and singer, he is an ardent "Love Bird" fan. Future lies in linguistics. Spanish Club, Prefect Body, Student Council, Regis.

Peter B. Gentles A recent addition to our distinguished halls, he can always be seen in heated debates on the the quality of the Mercedes Benz, where his tone of speech has rightfully earned him the name of "Crudles". Reputed to be suave and debonair, his popularity knows no limits. A dedicated worker, he will undoubtedly achieve his ambition of becoming a millionaire. History Club, Xavier.

Charles Green A "mathematical magician" is the best term to describe this reserved young man. His conservative nature, however, is sprinkled by moments when he expresses his viewpoint on various issues. Charley is also quite a sportsman. On his day he can be an almost devastating forward. Regis House Captain; Manning: Student Council; Science Club.

Patrick A. Hammond A graduate of the jocular lodge, Patrick is extremely proficient at repartee where his quips never fail to tickle. An extreme critic of all tired cars, his favourite pastime is to discuss the happenings at the various Vernamfield race meets even when he doesn't attend. A self-retired footballer, his future lies in architecture. Student Council, History Club, Science Club, Campion.

Franz F. Hanna An expert on hilarity, Franz keeps the class in constant merriment by his adeptness at fabricating words foreign to our ears yet based on our language. Undoubtedly efficient at bantering he is subjected to times of deep moodiness after losing verbal battles. Success for him will surely come when he takes up his career in law. History Coub, Student Council, Prefect, Loyola Raymond Hoo A member of II—6—M's conservative people club. His quiet disposition is occasionally interrupted by satirical moments: Raymie is an amateur at comedy. To round it off, this young gentleman is quite a brilliant student; his pursuits in the lab remind us of pioneer physicists. Xavier.

Barron Johnson To know Barron is to know the quintescence of intellectualism. This remarkable personality has been endowed with the priceless attribute of being an affable person. A moment spent within the field of this man's commanding presence is never a dull moment. For he is a comedian of the class. Further, Barron is a fantastic footballer. Manning; Science Club, Campion.

Richard A. Johnson Calm, cool and level-headed, that is Richard. His forceful manner of speech has often left him unchallenged on various issues. One of the more knowledgeable members of the class, Richard's wisdom is at time equal to that of the philosophers. His ambition is to be an artist, poet, philosopher, historian, lover and teacher. History Club.

Richard Jones An alien being from ... Spanish Town. The brilliance of this young man makes him an asset to the school and the distant republic from which he hails. The phenomenal ability of this man is superseded only by his magnetic personality which has a tremendous pull on his peers. Science Club. Cricket; Campion; Chess Club.

Peter B. Lukong Lukey is a rather quiet young man, though not when some one producing a chess board ...he is a fanatic for the game. Peter is a first class chemist. Well known for doing numerous experiments even unauthorised ones. Prefect, student council, science club and a member of the Regis house. Ant

Mark A. Lyn "Shorty", as he is called by fellow classmates is diminutive in stature. This however has not prevented this young man from being colossal intellectually. Mark is never afraid to share his views on matters of great importance during a discussion. Future lies in Chemical Engineering. Prefect; Student Council: Science Club; Xavier.

Howard N. Malcolm Howie's jocular remarks always succeed in leaving all within earshot rollicking with mirth. A connoisseur of good music, he is always up to date on the best songs available. His long strides will surely enable him to hurdle the obstacles in attaining his career as a political scientist and attorney-at-law. Track Team, Science Club, Student Council, House Captain, Loyola.

Michael Matthews Industrious and resiliant, Matty possesses athletic abilities which until last year was latent. This very hard worker intends to be a part of the inevitable social tide which will take political supremacy to the hands of the masses. A student of black studies.

Albert McDonald We are unable to describe adequately this young man who exemplifies the purest forms of affability. "Pickles" as we call him, is quite a gentleman — a characteristic which has enabled him to capture the heart of many a young lady. An athlete, our no. 1 sprinter. Prefect; Student Council; Mendel Society President; Science Club; Track; Bellarmine.

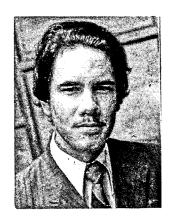

Robert E. Ralph "Rufie" is rather quiet but experience shows he can be very turbulent on occasions. He possesses some very deep views of life which he is never afraid to express. His determination to succeed is marked by his dedication to his studies. One of our strongest preachers of social reform, his ambition is to be an attorney-atlaw. History Club, Student Council, Campion.

Andrew B. Rattray. Another member of the jocund regime. His keen and perceptive mind enables him to have a wide realm of judgement and understanding. A self-styled tennis player, he also enjoys badminton and table tennis. An experienced debator he will be well prepared to take up his career as an attorney-at-law. Science Club, Debating Society, Prefect, Student Council, Loyola.

Michael F. Ross A well known member of 2-6-A his popularity is reputed to lie in some female institutions. His lack of dexterity is high-lighted in his frequent engagements at fisticuffs which are due to his persistence in having the last word. "Nyamdemostest" surprises no one when he does the most unexpected things. Future lies in industrial management. Science Club, History Club, Regis.

David S. Schleifer A well respected personage, David has attained heights that some men will never reach. His true to life tales are gathered from years of experience and wide areas of Jamaica's landscape. A persistent attendant at Vernamfield, he is the class expert on the car bonnet's undersides. Knowledgeable in current affairs he will undoubtedly succeed in his career as en economist and political scientist. History Club.

Jack Shim Saying that Jack is a brilliant student would only be an understatement — for this young man is a genius. Quite frequently however, Jack usually takes a recess from serious studying to enjoy a weekend on the North Coast. A lover of cars, the faster the better. Science Club; Xavier.

David Wan "Wano" is a model of academic excellence. It is a rare occurrence for one person to be endowed with the amount of ability possessed by this young man. Monumental as his capabilities may be there is no question that this is easily surpassed by his affability. This has undoubtedly rocketed David to be such a popular member of 2—6—M. Science Club.

David Welsh A man of many moods. A crack athlete. "Trees" is an excellent mathematician and practical physicist. Loves good music especially the "Delphonics". Boris Gardener. Covers a lot of ground with the girls. Future lies in medicine.

Kirk Williams The sheer dynamism of his character has amassed numerous friends both male and female. His grace and speed over the hurdles has earned him a proverbial mark of distinction. Easy going, but responds to outside pressures by working diligently. Likes to read the works of contemporary black writers, especially George Jackson. This leading authority on all forms of music hopes to become a medical doctor.

Kaiser Wong Kaiser is 2-6-M's quietest member. In comparitive terms, his silence is a measure of his tremendous academic ability. He is probably the best practical physicist to come our way for quite some time. Within this reserved young man, however, there lies a great degree of warmth and generosity. Science Club.

Patrick Wong Patrick as his credo (All work and no play makes Patrick a dull boy) would indicate, is a debonair young man. Coupled with his phenomenal, intellectual capabilities "Mr. Main Ingredient" more than any of his contemparies exemplifies the perfect hybridization of business and pleasure. Future lies either in engineering or business management. Prefect; Student Council; Science Club; Loyola.

Franklyn Yap Mr. Cool and Easy, Franky never seems to be perplexed by the problems of life. This however has not dampened in any way his keen business sense. Franklyn is a fanatic for fast cars, but his enthusiasm for school work far exceeds his love for cars. Xavier.

Anthony N. Yee. "Chief" is probably the greatest practitioner of the law of conservation of energy. His sheer inertness however has been quite instrumental in making this young man a very popular figure in his class. A very popular man every where he goes. A very brilliant student who has probably done more reading in the Arts than his fellow scientist A cricketer... He fancies himself to be quite a wicket keeper.

Some Recent Scholarships won by St.G.C. Old Boys (By no means a complete listing)

Rhodes JAMAICA SCHOLARSHIP Independence Scholarship 1969 Ronald G. Thwaites 1959 Theodore Chin 1964 Bernard Wilmot 1963 Trevor Munroe 1960 Michael Yee Quee 1967 Errol Prince 1956 Maurice Tenn 1961 Lachman Dansinghani 1962 Dennis Edmunds 1963 Lipton Wong Lyn 1964 Clement McCalla 1967 Sedley McLanghlin 1971 Keith Garel Cornell University Yale University Harvard University 1961 Victor Fung 1961 Morrell Chance 1964 Bernard Wilmot 1962 Ronald G. Thwaites 1962 Patrick Wilmot 1968 Russell Bell 1964 William Lard 1969 David Mathurin 1969 Anthony Chong 1972 Lancelot Alexander Dartmouth College 1963 Victor Lyn 1967 Fredel Young Columbia University Vanderbilt University St. Joseph's College 1971 Francis Ho Lung 1971 Terrence Chung 1969 Arthur Wan 1972 Robert Kong 1970 Chris Chin Fatt 1972 Carlton Clark 1971 Stephen Morgan Issa Scholarship Boston College University of Notre Dame 1970 Brandon Walsh 1964 Leighton Holness 1963 Kurth Chin Fatt Brendeis University 1963 Wilmon Bryan Government Scholarship National Scholarship (M.I.T.) Danforth Scholarship 1965 Trevor Chin Quee 1967 Thomas Goreau 1958 Noel Brown 1961 Patrick Chew U.W.I. 1971 Philip Duncan

1972 David Chin Fatt

College of St. Scholastica

1967 Robert Franklin 1967 John Campbell 1967 Gerald Hoo Fung 1964 Ronald Silvera 1964 Ronald Young 1964 Trevor Yee 1963 Robert Harvey 1963 Basil Burke 1963 Arthur Lewin

Alcan Scholarship

1966 Frank Whittaker

IMPRESSION

by Richard Johnson

Men roam this earth with little Mind as to where to go And we can seldom feel the Whirl of confusion that they know, We are fish unquestionable, As we are taken down the stream In its flow: We absorb and create and All this does, not? stagnate Our thoughts we stow We shall never change from what We were born, no. We shall never change the streams flow, Because day after day lazier do we grow. We shall be a part from the yeilow till it snow. It is clear, day after day the lazier we grow.

Teacher-Student Relationship

This question is not an easy one, neither is the answer; and I am limited to space.

The teacher is among many things a counselor, a guide and, if he is lucky, a friend for his students and often for their parents. Many teachers believe that counseling is too much like trying to govern other people's lives and so they are often uncomfortable in this situation. The learner, often lonely and troubled by difficult problems, will go to his teacher for help. Indeed the learning situation is the very soil out of which the question of life arises.

There are many dangers in growing to adulthood. Becoming an adult in a modern society is not easy. The emotional problems that develop in childhood are evidence enough. These seem relatively unimportant, however, when compared to the sadness of unfulfilled potential. What then is the problem?!

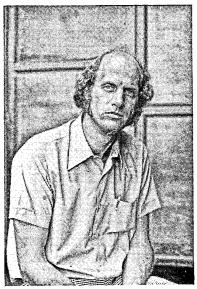

What a person becomes is influenced greatly by his experience — by what is commonly called education. Man is not made to react effectively to his surroundings by nature, by the mere process of growing to adulthood. Man must learn a thousand things in the process of growing.

The choices of the growing child and youth are made by his society, by his parents, by his teachers, and finally by himself. This is the meaning of man's great freedom, but it is a freedom of dangers and uncertainties. Man has often wished he could escape from this kind of freedom, but it seems it is not possible. We have an unlimited opportunity for education.

The teacher who meets a class, beginning or advanced, faces a group of individuals who are the result of life experience thus far. He will find them full of wounds from the living of life. In the process of growing, they will, because of hurts in the past, use methods that often bring an unwanted result. The teacher also bears in his personality the wounds of his life experience. The very best of us will bring only a "growing toward" what we would like to be as teachers. We will have many faults, but the important thing is that we will be growing in self-understanding, knowledge, and wisdom. This we all can do.

Students in the process of being educated will often need someone to talk with. Often, students either from home or school experience will feel greatly threatened by any person in what is or seems to be a position of authority. The reaction may be one of distrust or dislike. Most of the foolish or improper things we do, in the classroom or out, are due to the feelings that we are not as good or worthy or important as others. Many students have great fear of their own ideas and imaginations; they feel that they must forever hide behind an "authority" not daring to present their own ideas. If the teacher is able to erase these fears and put confidence into the student, then he is on the best way to become a friend

-Whats that???

H.D. WIERICH.

In the process of growing, there are many times when a learner strongly feels the need for someone to talk to outside his own family. This a normal need. It is an aspect of discovering "who I am." The teacher is in an excellent position to fulfill this need. The confidence so important to this part of a teacher's work results from the respect between teacher and student. This means that the teacher respects the students as individuals who have many problems but who also have pride in their accomplishments. It also means that the students respect the teacher, but the teacher must win this respect, not expect or demand it. These students have had many experiences, both helpful and harmful, with adults and teachers. Winning, in my opinion, is a privilege not a right. But the winning of both is the highest reward not only for the teacher, but also, if not more, for the student.

Confidence and respect between teacher and student will continue by protecting the student's trust. There is always a danger an adult will consider unimportant a matter that a student considers very important. If it seems wise and necessary to speak with parents or another teacher, it is very important that the student who is being discussed, understands, but he has not always to agree. Otherwise, the relation basic to confidence may be destroyed.

It is true that the student has to learn by and for himself, but there are times when he can ask about some of the major problems and how they have best been dealt with. The wise teacher carefully avoids forcing either counsel or confidence upon the student; here he can be a friend.

Every individual wants, in the very special quality of his individuality to be and to be treated as special; for he IS special. Therefore let him feel that he is special.

As I said in the beginning, I do not know if there is an answer, but one thing I do know, only with your help, and I mean you students, can there be good teachers. It is a rough ground we tread on — let's reach for the stars — TOGETHER.

ADMINISTRATION

Fr. Maurice Feres, S.J. Headmaster

Fr. Lawrence A. Burke, S.J. Rector

Fr. Kenneth Hughes, S.J. Asst. Headmaster

Fr. Paul R. Hayes, S.J. Administrator

Fr. Leo Quinlan, S.J. Dean of Discipline

r. Gerald Heffernan, S.J. Bursar

FACULTY

Mr. Adrian Chaplain Dean of Faculty, Maths, Accounts

Mr. Kedum T. Abraham Arithmetic

Mr. Winston W. Anderson Economics Accounts

Mr. Gordon Booth Maths

Fr. Gerald Bowman S.J. English, Religion

Fr. Thomas J. Brodley, S.J. Maths

Bro. Austin Burns, S.J. General Science

Mr. Victor Chang Chemistry

Mrs. Enid Clarke Maths

Fr. Joseph Connell, S.J. Religion

Mr. Leon F. Dann English

Fr. Joseph Flaucher Physical Science

Fr. Philip Fuhs, S.J. Guidance Counsellor

Miss Valera A. Gordon English

Mr. Robert J. Harper History

Fr. Gerald Hennessey, S.J. Biology, Zoology

Mr. George Higgins General Science

Fr. Robert J. Higgins, S.J. Geography Religion

Fr. James Hosie, S.J. Maths, Religion

Bro. Joseph Kelleher, S.J. Maths, Accounts.

Mr. Joseph Kijanski English, Religion

Fr. William Larkin, S.J. Physics

Fr. Raymond McCluskey, S.J. Physics

Mr. John MacKay Biology, Zoology, Health Science

Fr. Richard K. McGowan, S.J. English, Religion

Mr. Ishmael Millard English, Maths.

Mr. Harry Moo Young, S.J. English, Scripture

Fr. Lawrence O'Toole, S.J. Chemistry, Religion

Mr. John T. Rupley Maths

Mr. Joseph Sanguinetti Physical Education

Fr. James Schecher, S.J. Physics

Fr. William Sheehan, S.J. English, Scripture, Reading Skills

Mr. Wilson Small English, Maths

Mr. Larkland Tabois Maths

Mr. William J. Tucker History

Mr. James Vermillion Math

Mr. Sylvester Walker Art

Fr. John J. Walsh, S.J. English

Mr. Heinz - Dieter Wierich English

Fr. John J. Williams, S.J. Spanish

Mrs. Violet C. Wilmot Spanish

Mr. Winston S. Wilson Spanish

Mr. Gladstone H. Woolcock History, Geography

SPORTS

COMMITTEE

Fifth former David Weller (right) receiving a trophy for his achievement in cycling and particularly his achievement in the recent International Cycling meet in Barbados where he set a record for visiting cyclists placing first in eight events and second in two. The presentation was made at St. George's College Sports Committee's first annual Awards banquet for top athletes in the school. Making the presentation is Mr. Don Miller.

Fourth form swimmer Michael Lee receiving trophy from Sports Committee member Mr. Pat Lopez for being top point getter at Swim Champs 1972.

AWARDS

1972-1973

STAFF

BRO. R. FOSTER, S.J. (Infirmarian)

MRS. PHYLLIS ALEXANDER (Secty. to the Headmaster)

MRS. H. SAULTER (Asst. Secty. to the Headmaster)

FR. H. MARTIN, S.J. (Spiritual Father)

FR. JOSEPH WALSH, S.J. (Librarian)

FR. JOHN BLATCHFORD, S.J. (Bookstore Manager)

A TRIBUTE TO

To know Carlos Lopez is to know a man of dedication. His dynamic personality has earned him the esteem of the many people who have had the pleasure of his association. Although he appears shy and extremely conservative to those who don't really know him, it is just an inherent quality he possesses that makes him stay behind the scenes. His sole motivation has been to restore the athletic supremacy of St. George's College.

Mr. Lopez, as he is affectionately called, has been associated with sports at St. George's College, particularly football, since 1961. For more than eleven years it has been his hope to be involved with a winning Manning Cup Team. Carlos still has hope in the student body and so has widened his interest to include all the sports teams of the school. Knowing that it was imperative that something be done, Carlos got together a group of old boys to implement some radical changes in sports at the school. Thus came into being the Sports Committee, the brainchild of Mr. Lopez. The Committee has backed the fund raising bingo at the Sheraton which enabled the purchase of much needed sports equipment. This kind of support and encouragement from the committee was the adrenalin spurring the track team on to rise from 14th to 5th place at this year's School Champs. It also enabled a small but very determined team to represent St. George's College at this year's Penn Relays in Philadelphia.

Carlos' main hope now is to see St. George's win the School Champs Cup for track and field athletics. His belief is that K.C. has dominated at Champs for too long. The student body agrees that it can be done because the motivation and talent are there.

Mr. Lopez has made a great personal sacrifice. He has been like a father to many of those who have participated in sports, and the boys have really appreciated it. His contribution to sports, and to the school has been tremendous.

CARLOS LOPEZ

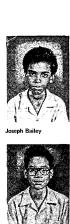

1E

2F

3A

David Chang

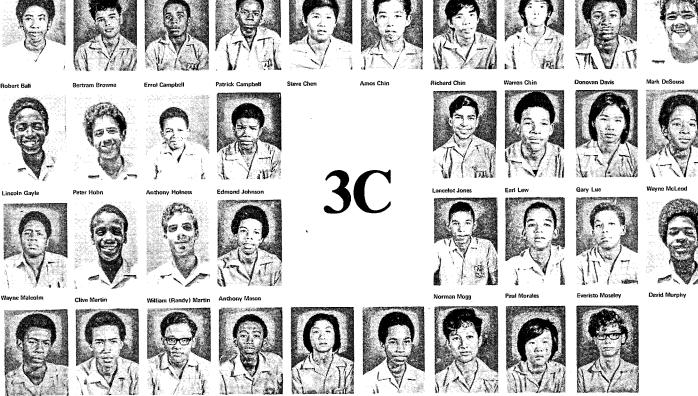

My Land

by Richard Johnson

With orchids, bell flower, and jasmine, My land is of blue skys
Warmed with a golden sun, darkening
Each and warming the sparkling sea.
My land, the humming bird sits Upon my broken window, jerks his Winged shoulders in wonderment, and Flies away humming with joy as
From hibiscus to hibiscus he roams
Gently displaying his frail body in the Scented air

Here silence is broken by the cry of A rooster, a woman's boisterous cry of Glee, and here the ant remains Passionate.

But lately I see, from the blue hills, A dark cloud float over the concrete Stone, and the sea grow dark and Ripple free with lonely bits of Civilization suspended. I hear loud and demanding noise And silence is broken by an Engine of transport.

1st year 6th Arts

C. McDowell

T. Morrison

L. Price

M. Rankine

P. Chong Yen

A. Walsh

P Won

Slownie

Maths

P. Ebanks

N. Neil

. Foreman

G. Simm

B. Brown

N. Gray

P. West

I Chana

M. Lyew

J. Wong

- - .

T. Lyn

A. Ying

R. Delanenha

M. McFarland

W. East

C. Black

Zoo

A. Lue

M. Beecher

R. Lue

S. Chang

E. Miller

M. Dawes

R. Miller

L. Garrique

G. Rattra

J. Hate

D. Thompson

F. Lindo

S. Vassell

St. George's did not live up to pre-season expectations and at the time of the abrupt termination of the season we were not in a challenging position. It should be noted that the culmination of excessive rough play and hooliganism forced a premature end to schoolboy soccer for 1972.

The Manning team started vigorous physical training in April under coach Bunny Goodison, former Jamaica footballer, and Joe Sanguinetti giving technical assistance. Team spirit was high, therefore the team trained enthusiastically till the season was ready to begin in early September.

The squad looked impressive in pre-season encounters. With some notable successes, the chief ones being against St. Joseph's College of Philadelphia, and Kingston College in the Roper Cup. Although the margins of these victories was small, 2-0 and 1-0 respectively, the team spirit, skill and ball artistry displayed was some manifestation of months of training.

With the advent of G.C.E. results we lost some young and valuable players, namely, O. James, V. Blake, and L. Longman. Due to other circumstances, many other players from the squad of the previous year were lost, namely, C. Peralta, G. Chin, H. Murray, C. Garel, L. O'Riley, N. Sheriff, and Kirk Williams. This heavy loss of players left the team with a small nucleus of experienced players with which to mould a young team around. All the young players came from the Colts except Anthony Mason who was a newcomer from Holy Trinity.

We started the season optimistically, with a young team of average age 16, but showing fight, talent, and enthusiasm. Our first match was against Trench Town and this resulted in a goal-less draw. It was an encouraging start as we played a good brand of football. Defenceman E. McEachron was outstanding as he kept the forwards at bay.

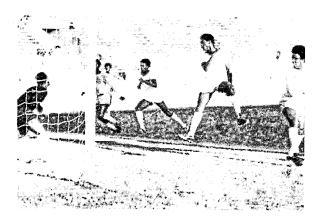

The second match against Ardenne was certainly not morale boosting although we won 1-0. Undoubtedly Ronald Smith stood out in this match and the remainder of the matches as the only forward with the potential of being a match-winner, as he was always lurking dangerously in the opponent's area.

In their third match of the season St. George's suffered a humiliating defeat from St. Jago with a score of 3-1. A general lack of organization prevailed and the fast-moving and hard tackling St. Jago players capitalized on defence errors. Outside left Johnson however scored with a beautiful header inside the second half to put a little respectability to our scorecard.

The last match of the curtailed season was against St. A.T.H.S. It was probably the most exciting match as our opponents scored early but in the last minute of the match Earl (Peeley) McEachron now the main striker, beat the keeper with a lobbing left footer.

That was the end of our abbreviated schedule. We were not in a good position but the team learnt a lot and this young team should perform better next year. The coming of the sports committee will definitely improve school spirit and facilities necessary for the fostering of a good team.

First row: M. McFarlane, A. Walsh (Captain), G. Lue-Tenn. Second row: R. Stephenson, A. Chin, D. Kong, Fr. Hosie (Moderator/Coach).

TENNIS TEAM

Of all the sporting activities at St. Georges, lawn tennis the only one in which we are outstanding. For the past 9 years St. Georges has monopolized inter school tennis. The reason for this monopoly is that they have good courts and good tutoring.

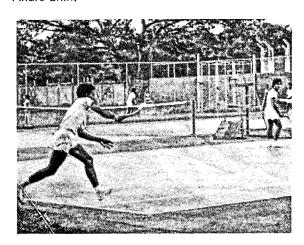

Under the tutoring of Fr. J. Hosie and the late Mr. "Willie" Passalaigue the boys have achieved very good tournament record this year. Fr. Hosie has encouraged tennis more than any other previous year. On every weekday afternoon, except Thursdays, Fr. Hosie has organized special coaching for the newcomers to the game.

This year's tournament players and the three reserve players will be receiving free rackets and jackets. They will also be receiving a dinner in honour of them at the end of the National inter-school championship in May.

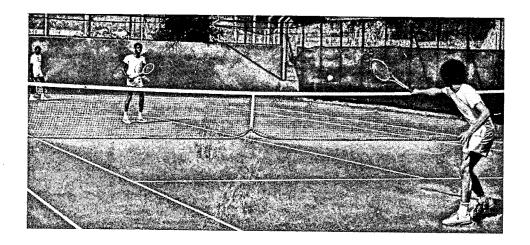

One tournament was held this year which will be of great interest in the picking of the team. This was the tournament for the Junior Squad in which Andre Chin, a newcomer to the game, swept aside his opposition in fine style to win the crown of Junior Squad championship of St. Georges. In the finals Andre gave a fine display of court craft to beat Desmond Yapp.

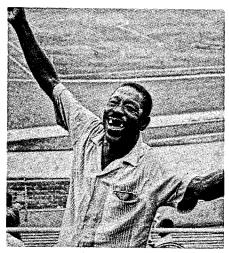

The results of the tournament were as follows: Quarter Finals:— C. McKenzie, bt. M. Forbes 6/1, 6/1; A. Chin bt. S. Lewis 6/2, 6/1; D. Yapp bt. H. Ferguson 3/6, 6/4, 6/2; N. Chin bt. J. Clarke 6/3, 2/6. 6/4; Semi-finals:— A. Chin, bt. Clyde McKenzie 6/3, 6/4: Finals:— A. Chin bt. D. Yapp 6/2, 7/5.

The nucleus of the 1973 school team has not yet been named, but the team will nearly be the same as last year. The automatic choices this year are: Aaron Walsh, Richard Stephenson, Paul Chin, Michael Mcfarlane and Douglas Kong. A likely addition will be Andre Chin.

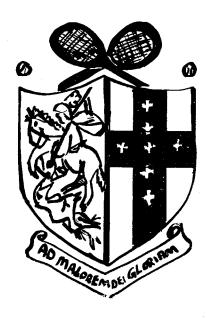

Traditional Victory

First row: Michael Forbes, Desmond Yapp, Clyde McKenzie, Andre Chin.
Second row: Steven Day, Hugh Ferguson, Curtis Myrie, Alexander Horsford, John Clarke, Steven Lewis, Christopher Berry.
Third row: Norman Chin, Anthony Grant, Christopher Strybos, Dwight Bacquie, Richard Josephs, Fr. Hosie, S.J. (coach)

1972 COLTS FOOTBALL SEASON

FIRST ROW: J. Young, P. Wallace.
SECOND ROW: P. Whyte, S. Chen, P. Callen, C. Chung, D. Cover, M. Wan, R. Burke, R. Gordon, N. Fisher.
THIRD ROW: Mr. J. Sanguinetti, T. Palmer, H. Lue, G. McPherson, M. Miller, G. Mitchell, W. Stewart, P. Chin, W. Kong, L. Chen, C. Bolton.

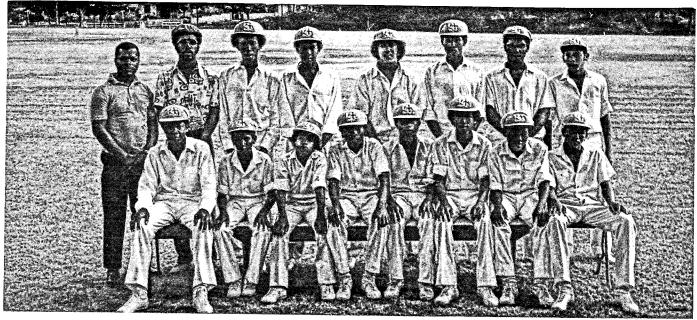

The performance of the team last season augured well for the future. The team came second in our zone and barely missed top honours due to some unfortunate circumstances.

Under the guidance of former Georgian, Joe Sanguinetti, the boys showed that four weeks of dedicated training made some impression. Out of five matches we won three, namely, Excelsior, Ardenne, and St. ATHS. However, we suffered defeat from Wolmers and drew against Camperdown. During these matches the team displayed a fighting spirit reminiscent of the true Georgian teams of the late fifties. Claver Campbell emerged as the most outstanding player of the team with the skipper Boulton and Stewart deserving of much praise. It is not implied that the rest of the team didn't perform well. The squad of fifteen was a well knit unit and this unity was manifested in their behaviour on and off the field.

The handicap of the team was definitely the absence of any real prolific goal scorer, but this is not unique when dealing with the present era of footballers in Jamaica.

We hope that Mr. Sanguinetti will keep on imparting his skills and know-how and nurse this promising team into the champions of tomorrow. With the advent of the sports committee the extra incentive will be provided for the next colts team to train harder and score more goals.

SCORERS:	STGC	vs StATHS	2 - 1
	STGC	vs Ardenne	2 - 1
	STGC	vs Excelsior	1 - 0
	STGC	vs Wolmers	0 - 3
	STGC	vs Camperdown	0 - 0

First Row (L-R) N. Henry, H. Maragh, T. Morris, M. Newman, R. Gordon, N. Neil, C. Campbell, P. Whyte. Second Row (L-R) Mr. L. Thompson, Mr. A. Cameron (Coach), D. Thompson, L. Price, H. Blair, R. Miller, M. Dawes, M. Jones.

CRICKET TEAM

This year could well be the beginning of a new era for ST.G.C. Cricket. Under the keen guidance of coach Arthur Cameron, a talented and hardworking team has emerged. Hard training, it would seem, has begun to pay off, for although not in a position to win the competition we are a force to be reckoned with and should finish well up the ladder. At the present we lie fifth out of fourteen in the competition, having played four matches, won one, lost one, and drawn two.

In the first match with Meadowbrook, St. George's rattled up 156 for 8 declared, due mainly to a record seventh wicket partnership of 123 between N. Neil 72 not out and R. Miller 43. When rain ended play prematurely, George's was on top, having Meadowbrook at 61 for 4. Paceman P. Whyte took all four wickets for only 13 runs.

Although we lost our second match to the favourites Kingston College, we put up a creditable performance against them. They won by six wickets with only fifteen minutes to spare. Top scorers in St. George's C. Fisher 21, R. Gordon 19, M. Newman 16, and N. Neil 14.

Undaunted by this defeat, we went on to thrash Camperdown in our next match. Fine bowling performances by off spinner C. Campbell 4 for 11, and paceman P. Whyte 3 for 17 backed up by excellent fielding enabled us to skittle them out for a meagre 41. Top scorer in St. George's, 46 for 4, was R. Gordon, 24 not out.

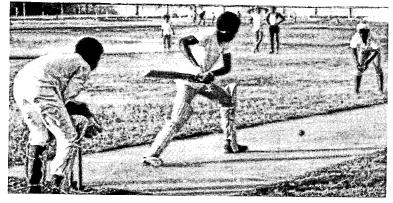

Against co-favourites Wolmers, we were able to hold on for a draw due mainly to a seventh wicket stand of 51 between newcomer H. Lue and L. Price. Lue's enterprising 41 contained eight fours, while Price who was undefeated at the end, with 14, remained at the crease for over two hours to see us to safety. Earlier in the inning the consistent Robert Gordon had scored a useful 21.

Team spirit is high, with expectations of many more victories to come in a very successful season. The most promising aspect however, is the youth of the team as nearly half the players are eligible for the colts competition. Indeed, with such stalwarts as Gordon, Whyte, Campbell and Lue eligible, we have high hopes of winning it. The future holds much promise indeed for our cricket.

M. Dawes and N. Neil after a memorable innings at Meadowbrook.

R. Miller plays the ball during a practice session at Emmet Park.

ST. GEORGE'S COLLEGE SPORTS COMMITTEE

Left to Right: Mr. Don Miller, Father G. Duffy, Mr. Pat Lopez, Milton Hardie (Headboy).

Mr. Joe Sanguinetti

The old boys of St. George's College have formed a sports committee to keep sports alive in the college. The committee is headed by Mr. Carlos Lopez, who is chairman and founder Mr. Pat Lopez, Mr. Joe Sanguinetti, sports master of the school, Father George Duffy, former sports master of the school, Mr. Don Miller and Milton Hardie, Head-boy of the college.

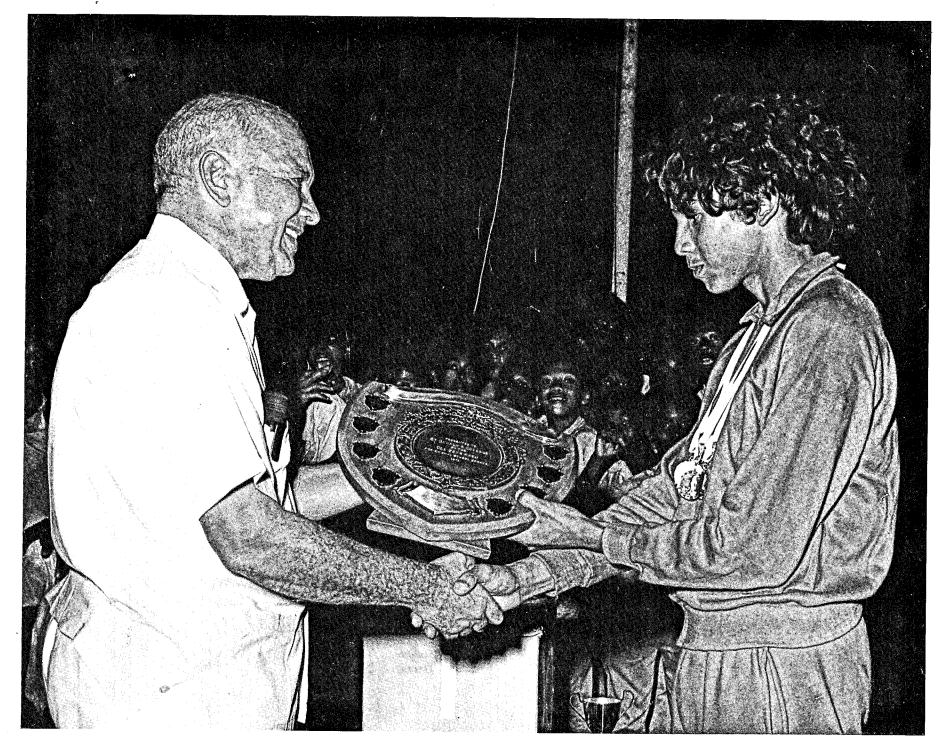

The purpose of this committee is to let the boys be able to play sports and not going through the routine of buying these high priced sports gears. Another way that the committee comes in very handy is that they supply the various sports teams with food after training and when the school is playing against another school at a field other than that of ST. GEORGES they receive transportation to and from the field.

On the 28 of February the committee had a bingo party at Sheraton Kingston Hotel where they earned an estimated $2000 this money will be used to build an Olympic size swimming pool and furnish the school's sportsmen with the equipment they need.

The committee was responsible for the efficient running of St. George's sports day as they were the one who donated the medals and trophies which were presented. They plan to do everything they can for sports in St. George's as this will help the school to do better in sports.

Mr. Leroy Thompson

SPORTS DAY CHAMP . . Ryan Peralto Third Form.

Front row left to right: Dennis Chin, Michael Tenn, Richard Spence, Richard Lee, Mr. Moo Young, S.J. Second row left to right: Mark Taylor, Christopher Yapp, Noel Dixon.

TABLE TENNIS TEAM

PING

The year 1972 has been quite disappointing for the table tennis team. The disappointment mainly lay in being so close yet so far from the winning of the cup. The other part of the disappointment lay in our loss of our captain, Paul Bennett.

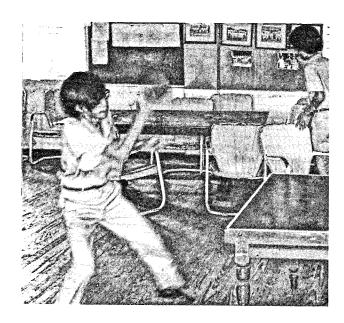

Nontheless, the training of the team began in January 1972 and continued until the conclusion of the inter-secondary school's tournament. During this time some members of our team earned reputable names in the line of the game. The Players, Michael Tenn and Eric Stulz, won the under 16 title and the under 13 title respectively in the All-Jamaica T.T. Tournament.

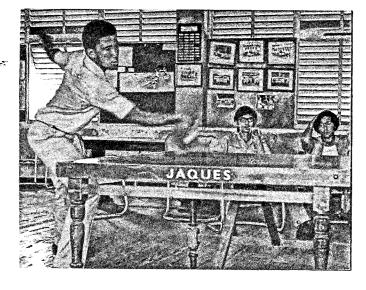

The season itself started very brightly with our defeat of K.T.H.S. seven nil. But this score did not appear very surprising as it became very common in our victories over the other schools. Team members were often seen scoring 21-1 victories over their opponents. But our luck ran out when we met Kingston College, who were then the holders of the cup. At the outset of this knockout match confidence rose to a high level when Michael Tenn beat Wigmore Francis, K.C.'s no. 1, while Paul Bennett taught their no. 2 Dennis Duncan, a thorough lesson. But our attempts were in vain when St. George's College had to accept the very close defeat of 4-3 games. Hence St. Goerge's College placed second in the inter-secondary school's tournament. The team's efforts were not wholly unrewarded, as the newly formed sports committee treated the team members to a dinner function.

The players still met regularly to train even though we are without the assistance of a coach. This regular meeting is mainly due to our moderator who has tried so admirably to hold the team together. We look forward to a successful '73-'74 year and we now have the confidence that the Kelall Cup is within easy reach.

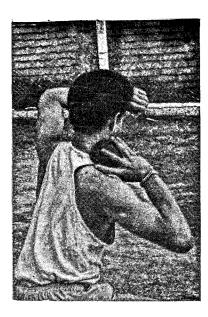

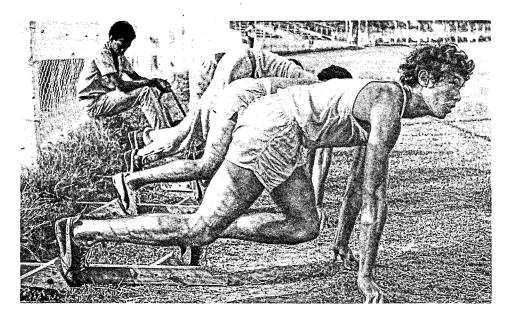

PONG

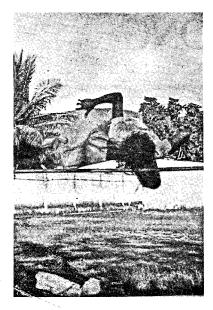

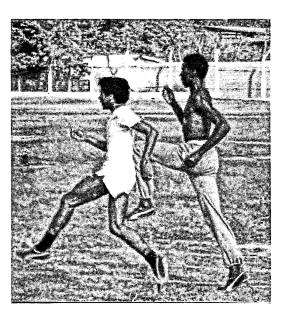

TRACK & FIELD

This year has proven to be the turning point for athletics at St. George's. The team performed remarkably well, and with a little more luck could have placed in the first three at the boys' championship. However, the young team in a truly stout-hearted effort placed fifth among thirty six schools and in terms of the size of the squad this was a splendid performance.

This diligent team started training as early as September under the guidance of our new coach, Vinton Powell, a former Jamaican middle distance runner. Our rigorous training programme included hill training from Blue Mountain Inn to Irish Town on Wednesdays and sand running along the Palisadoes Road on Saturdays. This was also mixed with weight training. It was against this background of physical conditioning that the relatively small team under the captaincy of Seymour "Jubba" Vassell started the track season.

First Row: M. Pitter, G. Mitchell, J. Brash, S. Smith, D. West, R. Peralto, M. Douglas.
Second Row: T. Palmer, G. Elvey, M. Clarke, M. Beecher, E. McEachron, E. Gibson, N. Gray, P. Gooden.
Third Row: O. Goldsmith, V. Hyatt, S. Vassell, K. Williams, Mr. R. McKay, R. Soares, Mr. C. Lopez, Mr. Miller, Mr. Powell.

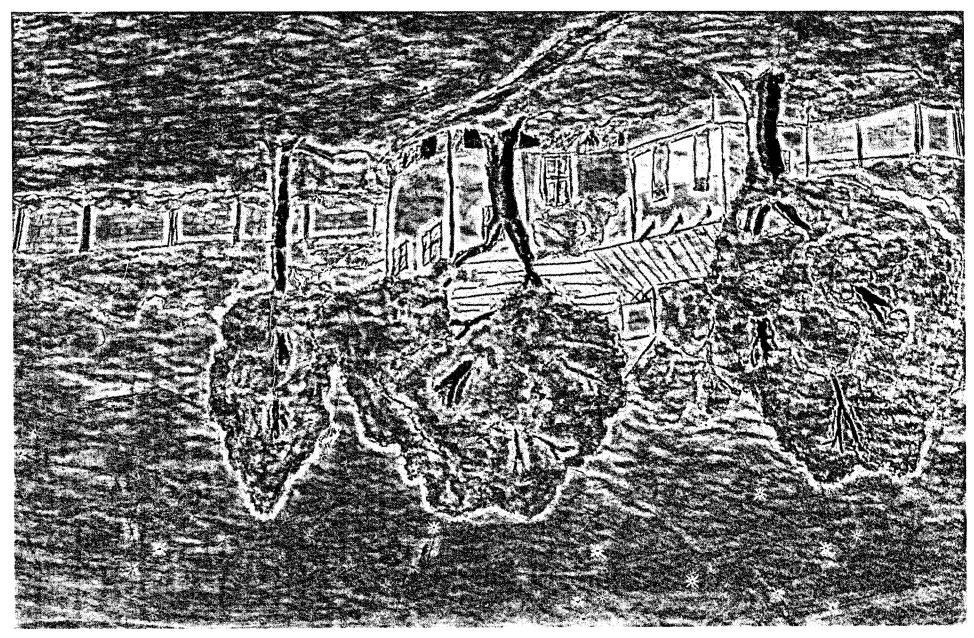

At the beginning of the season we were fortunate to obtain the services of Dennis Johnson, former world sprint record holder and Mike McKay our former coach, whose sincere devotion to the development of track at St. Georges was exemplary. With top class expertise at hand, we began competing in development meets on Saturdays to obtain the necessary competition which is concomitant to improving performances. Our biggest pre-champs meet was the Gibson Relays which apart from providing real competition gave the inexper enced members of the team "First Taste" of a big meet.

We entered champs therefore with a small, well prepared, disciplined and cohesive team of nineteen members. Our biggest handicap was that we were severely hit with injuries, notably that of Michael Douglas, of Class II, whose performances were really remarkable in pre-season meets. Seymour "Jubba" Vassell, Mike Pitter and Richard Soares all sustained injuries but were fortunate to participate at Champs. Another basic handicap was that our Class I team was extremely small due to a poor turn-out of the older members of the school.

On March 23rd and 24th, the big days of competition and sheer excitement came. Peter Gooden of Class II, in a display of power running and fighting spirit won the 200 and 400 metres in times of 22.5 and 49.8 secs. respectively. Mark Clarke also of Class II, captured the 110 metres hurdles in a scintillating, record-breaking time of 14.8 secs. Undoubtedly these were the highlights of our performances but this did not overshadow the other excellent performances. Young Palmer's leap in the long jump which earned him 2nd place in Class II, "Yannie" Peralto's jump in the high jump Class II which earned 3rd place and, the sparkling run of the quartet, "Silly" Smith, "Yannie" Peralto, Mike Pitter and young Elvy in the 4 x100 metres relay coming 2nd also deserved praise. Kirk Williams in the Class I hurdles placed 3rd with a creditable performance and other good performances came from V. Hyatt, M. Beecher and E. Gibson. But the most inspiring thing about the team was the spirit, co-operation and enthusiasm that prevailed. Therefore the whole team ought to be congratulated.

Improving our position from fourteenth to fifth place, was due to good organization and management. Carlos Lopez, our most devoted and esteemed manager, was 'The' man at the grass root of all this, and the whole team appreciated the food and nourishment provided. Help was also provided by Carrearas and Jamaica Milk Products. Special mention must be made about the "Sports Committee" whose work with the team paid dividends.

In concluding, all that remains to say is that next year the track team will be a dynamic force at champs.

" The Emerald Road House " by V. Persaud, 2E Photo by R. Delapenha.

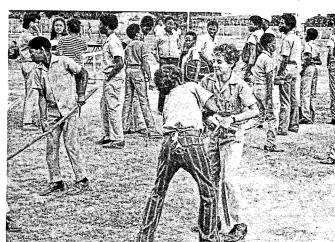

SPORTS DAY

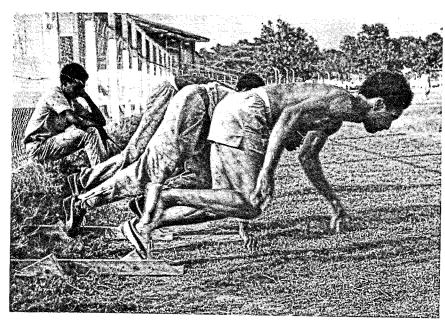

Practicing . . . off the track

It's a bird, it's a plane, it's Super Pickles

HOUSE REPORTS

BELLARMINE HOUSE

HOUSE CAPTAIN: Seymour Vassell

This year began with many good things in store for Bellarmine. First was the appointment of Seymour Vassell as Captain and Norman Gray as Vice-Captain. Cooperation of the boys, especially in the lower forms greatly contributed to the success we have seen. We won first and second forms football competition. We were also winning the upper school competitions until they were stopped.

In track, too, we were fortunate in having some of the most outstanding athletes and managed to come a strong second on Sports Day. Our squad had such personalities as Peter Gooden who after his fine Sports Day performance went on to champs to give another excellent display of his skills. There he won both the 200m and the 400m.

Discipline was on the constant improvement as the school year progressed and by the end of March, it was Bellarmine that was firmly in command of first place in the house standings, the place we feel confident of holding on to for the duration of the year. Overall, we can say that this has been another excellent year for Bellarmine.

CAMPION HOUSE HOUSE CAPTAIN: Carl Little

This year my main objective was to expose and improve the abilities of the Members of Campion. This proved to be a very successful venture as I was able to discover some first formers who will certainly be the core of sports in the near future. Some of these include Philip Taylor, Paul Fung and Mark Knibb.

We were very successful in the inter-house football competition, placing second with the main contributors being 1st, 2nd and 3rd forms. For the third consecutive year Campion won the inter-house track competition. This was due mainly to Ryan Peralto (3rd form-victor ludorum), Vincent Hyatt (5th form), Michael Beecher and Earl McEachron (both of sixth form).

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all those who contributed something to the House, whether it be talents or support and hope that these people will again show the same house spirit to future house captain.

LOYOLA HOUSE HOUSE CAPTAIN: Howard Malcolm

The School year started with Mr. Larkland Tabois as House Moderator. This was followed by the election of House Captain and Vice-Captain. Howard Malcolm of Second Sixth Arts was elected House Captain and Mark Clarke of 5-IV was appointed Vice-Captain. Activities were restricted to inter-house football, which the various house captains agreed to merge fifth and sixth forms into one team.

Our third and fourth form footballers did very well but unfortunately our first, second, fifth and sixth form colleagues did not emulate them. This was due mainly to a lack of cooperation and interest on their part.

The second term saw the introduction of a new system of inter-house cricket competition. This took the format of under 15 and over 15 teams.

Our under 15 cricketers came second in their division, whilst at the time of writing this report the over 15 section remained unfinished.

On sports day Loyola placed third thus improving on last year's position. Special mention must be made of Mark Clarke and Sylvester Smith who did particularly well in their respective classes.

With regard to discipline it has been noticed that although we get a large number of merits, any improvement we might have made in the House standings is nullified by an even larger amount of demerits which we get.

Thus in closing, an appeal made to all member of the House to show some more self-control and maturity when dealing with teachers and fellow students. By so doing Loyola will be able to achieve the top position at the end of the year.

REGIS

HOUSE CAPTAIN: Charles Green

Regis has over the years shown improvement in all fields of endeavour. This year we have accomplished a lot.

Although we came fourth on sports day this does not reflect the amount of sweat our boys did in training. We have produced a few good athletes, who will with time be of great benefit both to Regis and to the school.

In football we did not fare so well as most of the boys failed to bring gears when games were to be played. We have done fairly well in cricket, though our under 15 team was suspended from further competition due to lack of presence of team members for matches.

Our boys don't seem to be conscious enough of school spirit. They have not done as well as they should have but then again, the best isn't good enough.

Regis has talented boys and in time we should prove to be one of the better houses if not the best.

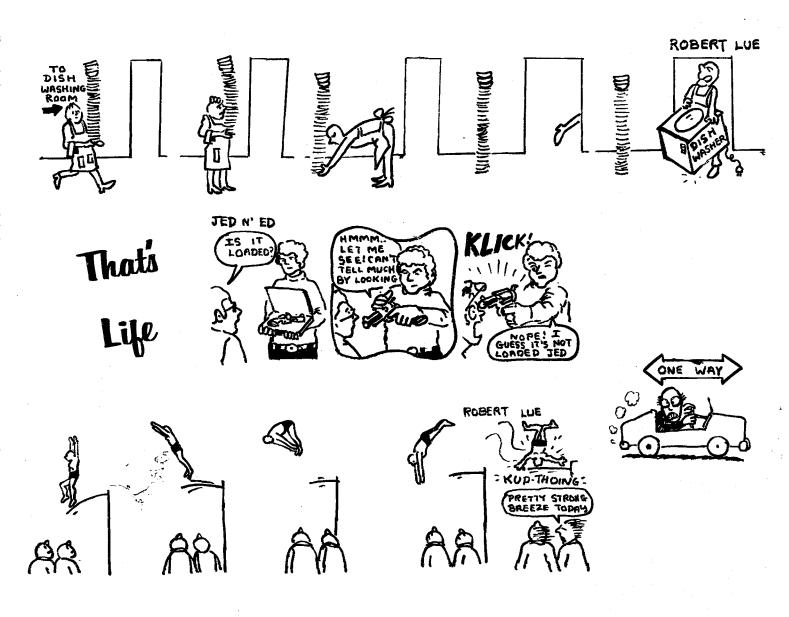

XAVIER

HOUSE CAPTAIN: Ronald Smith

Xavier, after the past month has proven that they can win if they try.

The first, second, and third forms showed a lot of school spirit but the upper forms seemed to lack this enthusiasm, except for a few Xavier showed that they could do something with their talent by leading the House competition for the earlier part of the competition. The soccer fans in Xavier proved their superiority by winning almost all their matches even though we weren't expected to do so. Some of the outstanding members of Xavier are D. Butterfield, A. Lym and R. West.

In closing, I would like to remind all members of Xavier House that it is only by working together that we will be able to achieve success, thus putting Xavier ahead where it belongs.

Reflections

by Philip A. Chang – 3 B

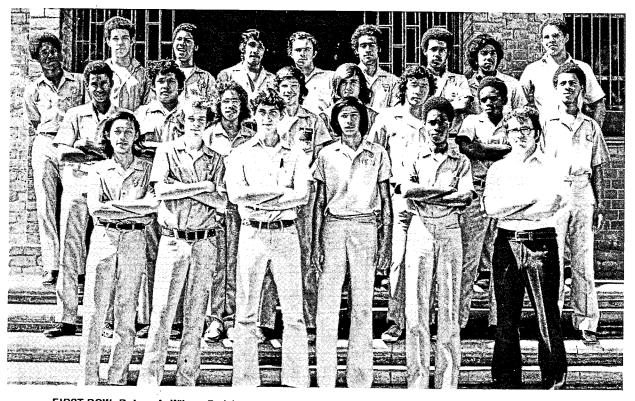

Why is there such a difference between an event we can never forget and an event we shall always remember? Inflation is when the waiter asks you if you will have the $3.50 lunch plain or toasted.

PROGRESS -

From Adam's rib to Women's Lib.

If there is so much hate in the world, how do you account for the population explosion?

HISTORY CLUB

FIRST ROW: R. Lue, A. Wilson, R. Johnson, V. Hugh, P. Hammond, Mr. Tucker. SECOND ROW: E. Russell, H. Young, R. Taylor, M. Martin, J. Rosen, L. Yap, D. Green, W. Atkinson THIRD ROW: R. Reid, E. Gibson, D. Chai-Chang, D. Macko, G. Simpson, F. Hanna, M. Ross, H. Blair, P. Gentles.

The History Club is one of St. George's newly organized clubs having been inaugurated in the Xmas Term of 1972. This first term started rather slowly with only one excursion to the forces Museum at Up Park Camp. The reason for the clubs gently stepping forward is that the ground work or foundation of the club was laid. This foundation consisted of the organization and drawing up of a constitution, and advertising and recruitment of members.

The second term showed more action. Having established a constitution, new objectives were set. The club was opened to the 4th, 5th and six formers and a subscription of $1.00 was requested from all members wishing to partake in the various field trips. This method of subscription enabled the hiring of transportation. Thus, the club had excursions to Port Royal, Helshire Hills, White Marl, Spanish Town, and Devon House. Whenever films of historical interest were available, they were shown to the club. Meetings were held every Tuesday afternoon, when topics of interest which had previously been chosen, were discussed.

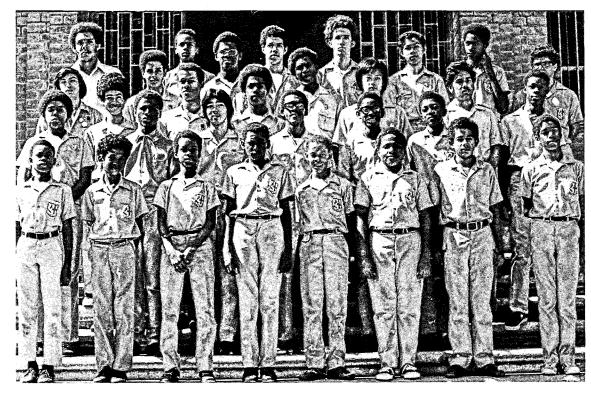

The third term of school looks hopeful as more excursions, meetings, elections of new officers and an end of year party are planned.

Indeed, we of the History Club have set a definite goal to meet. And with the reorganization of the club and the hope of publishing a pamphlet, we are confident that we will succeed in instilling an interest in History. For with the awareness of one's history comes the awareness of one's heritage. Hence this definite knowledge and confidence of knowing exactly what one is.

Richard Johnson: 2-6-A

President

SPANISH CLUB

FIRST ROW (L-R) L. Jacas, U. Mathias, C. Jackson, F. Vassel, C. Carter, A. Johnson, A. Rossi, P. Lindo-SECOND ROW (L-R) M. Muirhead, P. Graham, C. Lowe, P. Davis, C. Hylton, R. Shaw. THIRD ROW (L-R) M. Ho Lung, M. Neil, M. Wilson, W. Burey, R. Hoo, D. Macko, D. Allen. FOURTH ROW: (L-R) Mr. W. Wilson, C. Matthews, E. Evans, P. Shaw, E. Gibson, M. Brown, S. Mackay, E. Chung, P. Baker, K. Chin.

The aim of the Spanish Club is to extricate the student from the drudgery and rigours of classroom Spanish study and to foment a profound cultural interest in the language and at the same time, to iron out the pupil's difficulties and meet G.C.E. Examination requirements.

The Club is divided into two sections — the Junior Department for the first three forms and the Senior Department for fourth and fifth forms. Both divisions are handled by our indefatigable President, Paul A. Davis of 2-6-A.

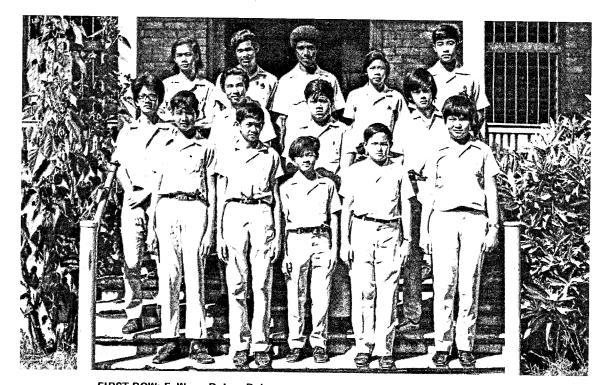

Priority is given to correct pronunciation, intonation, syntax, verb usage, nuances and word clusters. A tape recorder plays a vital role. It provides good models in all essential areas of study and when the "lectura" and "dialogo" are tackled, peculiar constructions and the student's errors are pointed out and discussed. Sessions of inter-student conversation are especially arranged so that the necessary familiarity and facility with the language may be achieved. The classes are usually conducted in both Spanish and English.

The Club sponsors a literary contest for both divisions. The prizes are additional incentives for students to put more care and study into the subject.

We, the members, bid a sorrowful "adios" to the "gran maestro" himself, Fr. William Feeney who, until his retirement in last July, was the dedicated and competent moderator supervising all the Club's activities. His successor, Mr. Wilson has been working behind the scenes with the President in an effort to arrange various future projects for the Spanish Club and also to secure financial assistance from commercial sectors.

The Spanish Club differs greatly from the dreary classroom. The cultural atmosphere is generated by the vivacious pulsations of Latin rhythms — catchy tunes which impel one to respond with enthusiasm and even a commendable attempt at the Mexican hat-dance.

THE CHESS CLUB

FIRST ROW: F. Wong, D. Lee, R. Lee.
SECOND ROW: D. Lyn*, E. Cha,* K. Chang Fatt, R. Hoo, THIRD ROW: T. Lyn* (President) R. Jones,* Mr. Small (Moderator) J. Wong,* A. Wong.

* Indicates a Member of the St. George's Tournament Team.

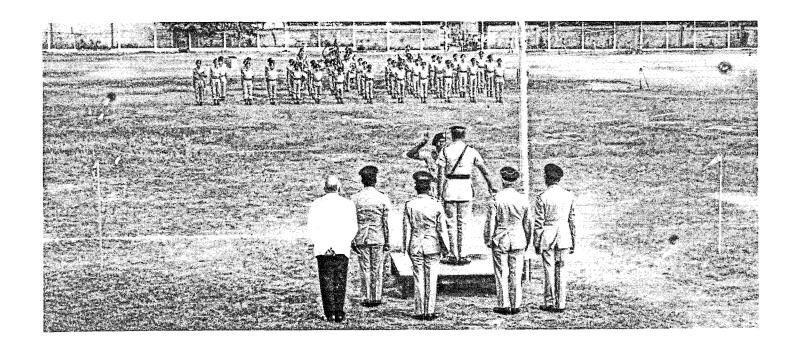

Years past one would enjoy a hard noisy game of dominoes, 'man pon ball' or hand ball during the lunch hours. Today, through a strong revival movement on the part of Tyrone Lyn and his gang one can now rest from the noise with a "Brain Busting" chess game. Thus one more void of a drab lunch hour is filled.

The game can be called the exercise for the hard working brain. The atmosphere must be tranquil thus allowing the mind to relax itself. Playing the rooks, brings about a development of the mind — it helps to build a trend for logical thought patterns and accurate anticipation. The game can attain a point of great meditation when things become even on the board.

The team, over the past year, has been very successful in their ventures. They were runners up to Titchfield High School in the third division of the Chess Tournament. On their way to victory, they inflicted several brutal defeats: Kingston College went down three games to one and Campion College dropped to a one love defeat, just to name a few. In the final match the team drew with Titchfield two games to two. But by a confusion of forfeit during the season, Titchfield emerged with the most points.

The eight team-mates have succeeded in their other venture of getting the game across to the entire student body. It is no longer a "Mystic" game, but one that almost every georgian (and soon all) can play. Such a club has been and will be for a long time, a prime example for other clubs to follow. Their dedication and unity will only help to build our motto stronger:—

"AD MAJOREM DEI GLORIAM."

St. George's College CADET Unit

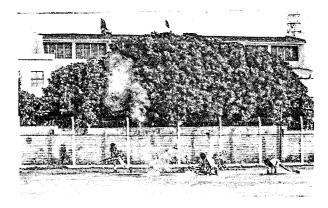

The year's activities started out with the Annual Camp at Moneague. St. George's was represented by eight cadets. Around this time the Annual Exchange programme was also in full swing. We were represented in Canada by Sgt. G. Rattray and Sgt. M. Reid; in Trinidad and Tobago by Sgt. D.G. Poulton; and in Grenada by Cpl. McDonald.

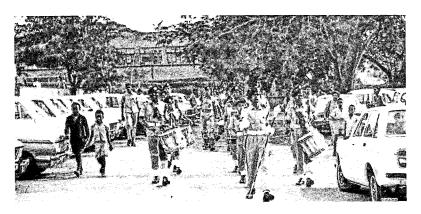

The Christmas term saw the N.C.O's working very hard to bring a large batch of green recruits up to the standard of the Annual Inspection. Out of thirty-two recruits, twenty-six passed their test and were enlisted as members of the Jamaica Combined Cadet Force. The band boomed out three times weekly in an effort to bring its young members up to "scratch".

Finally the Inspection day arrived. As the day drew slowly to a close the cadets rounded off their performance and stood all-ears-awaiting the remarks of the Inspecting Officer. Sighs of relief, and satisfaction were heard when the Inspecting Officer, Major Lewis, commended the Unit as a whole, the band and the N.C.O.'s, in particular, for a fine performance. The Unit's drill was likened to that of the Third Jamaica Regiment.

Every rose has its thorns. Despite our joy, we all knew that in the near future Major Gerald Hall would walk amongst us no more. Maj. Hall, who has been with us at St. George's College for thirty-one years, has been given the post of second in command of the J.C.C.F. This post will necessitate his fullest attention so he must put his "baby" up for adoption. This Cadet generation will witness the saddest event of its history, Maj. Hall's leaving the Unit. With him go our best wishes and God speed.

C.S.M.G. Rattray

THE SCIENCE CLUB

FIRST ROW (L-R) J. Wong, C. Little, M. Hardie, M. Lyn, P. Wong, M. McFarlane, SECOND ROW (L-R) R. Delapenha, E. Ramsay, D. Nash, P. Ivy, R. Bahadosingh, L.E. McEachron, A. Yee, R. Hoo, D. Wan THIRD ROW (L-R) C. Green, D. Welch, P. Chai-Chang, A. McDonald, W. Atkinson, G. Simpson, J. Shim, H. Cheng. FOURTH ROW (L-R) R. Jones, M. Matthews, P. Chung, W. Chang Fatt, B. Johnson, A. Scully, J. Chang, F. Lindo, H. Malcolm, A. Rattray, P. Lukong, M. Ross, R. Jackson, P. Hammond.

The Science Club was undoubtedly the most active extra-curricular organisation for 1972.

After the necessary preliminaries of the election of officers which resulted in the emergence of Milton Hardie as the club's president; Mark Lyn, vice-president, Patrick Wong, secretary; and Norman Gray, treasurer, the Science Club got off to a fairly good start.

The club's initial venture was a financial one. This was a fund raising raffle the proceeds from which helped to finance the school's annual exhibit. The raffle, due to the hard work put in by the club's members was a moderate success.

Dr. Tinker an entomologist who was invited by the club, gave a talk, within the capacity of his field, as far as job opportunities in science was concerned. This was followed up by guided tours, by the club of the Berger Paints Plant and of the Jamintel's Satelite Earth Station in St. Thomas. These excursions beyond the confines of the St. George's College campus were very profitable for the club's members, as they somehow acted as a stimulus for our eager scientific minds.

The Christmas term — the term of the science fair — was the high point of activities of the science club. By a unanimous vote, the topic "Time" was chosen as our topic for the science fair. The physical biological, chemical and economic aspects of the topic were all treated. Although we failed to win a prize the full brunt of the sting of failure on our hard working members was alleviated by the fact that our exhibit was at all times the most popular one in the fair. This was easily shown by the large numbers of people who waited in line to see our exhibit.

It is the general feeling that with such encouragement '73 could definitely be our year.

The Blue and White

Seated (First row) L-R: Roderick Lyn, Vernon Hugh Second row: (L-R) G. Brown, C. Dann, M. Little, M. Moore, E. Cha, D. Lyn. Third row: (L-R) D. Burke, F. Fraser, R. Spence, J. Kijanski, L. Yap, R. Richards, E. Godfrey. Absent: B. Fung, P. Lawes, E. Lee, C. McKenzie, D. Green, C. Myrie, C. Macko, D. Allen, M. Wilson, A. Dunbar, S. Yapp, J. Young, L. Green, C. Kong.

The academic year 1972-73 saw the struggling re-birth of The Blue and White, the newspaper of the St. George's College community. Organizational meetings began in September and plans were made for the first issue to come out before the end of the Christmas Term. However, due to difficulties with printing and layout, the circulation of the first edition was delayed to the first week of the Easter term.

The initial issue carried a diverse array of stories ranging from an investigation of the cafeteria question to the humourous exploits of "George of the Gully." Spanning eight pages, issue number one aimed at presenting something for readers of every taste.

Issue one was received with relatively positive results as over three quarters of the 1,000 copies printed were sold to students, parents, and others interested in the happenings at St. George's. The staff began preparing for their second issue in January, but an increase in printing costs and other related problems did not allow for an issue during the Easter term. In the meantime plans were put into operation for inter-school cooperation between Alpha Academy and St. George's in the preparation of a Summer term issue.

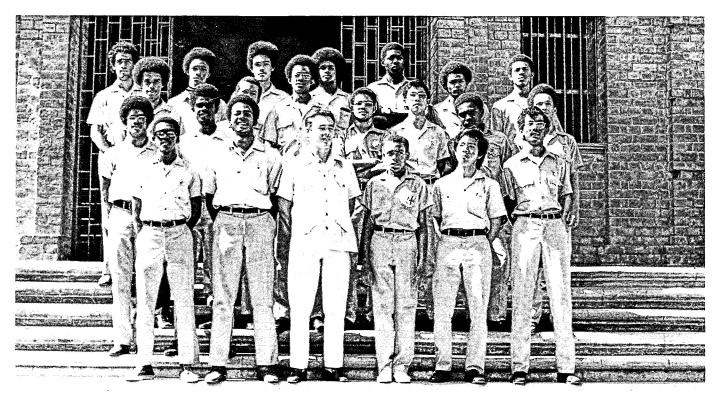

Over-all, student response to the paper has been good and at present 3 members of the Blue and White staff are working as sports reporters for The Star. During the Summer Term classes meeting after school have been set up to give interested students a chance to learn some of the fundamentals of newspaper reporting. It is hoped that these classes will lead to a quality newspaper that will appear at least once per term during the coming year.

Special mention for this year's efforts must be given to Carl Dann (Business Manager) Gerald Brown and Shane Yapp (Co-Editors), and Edward Lee (Staff Photographer). Without these men and the help of the rest of the staff, St. George's would still be without a newspaper.

CRICKET CAPTAIN "Sookie" Newman

STUDENT COUNCIL

First Row: P. Davis, M. Hardie, Mr. J. Mackay, A. Mais, M. Lyn, R. Wong. Second Row: C. Little, E. McEachron, M. Wilson, R. Bahadosingh, R. Spence, P. Lukong, L. Chambers, A. McDonald. Third Row: F. Hanna, K. Williams, D. Welch, M. Watthews, R. Smith, S. Vassell, C. Green, W. Atkinson.

Its slogans are "PROGRESS" and "INVOLVEMENT": The Student Council, goaded by the drastic need for reform, has been a dynamic and ambitious body endeavouring to make a significant contribution to the material and social welfare of the students of St. Georges. The purpose of the council is to manifold: to bridge the gap between that exists between the Administration and the Student Body, to foster a healthy atmosphere of school-pride and active participation, to share in the students ideas, aspirations and grouses with the aim of acting on them and in general, to measure the "pulse" of the Student Body.

By far the most meritorious of its achievements has been the amelioriation of conditions in the cafeteria. Not only has efficiency on the part of the staff improved considerably but so have the quality and assortment of foodstuffs. Through the unfailing efforts of the CAFETERIA COMMITTEE and the special CAFETERIA COMPLAINTS BUREAU, the Student Council has been constantly in touch with Mr. Saulter, manager of the school lunch programme and so can iron out difficulties as they arise. Students have quite heartily welcomed these innovations: corn bread, hard-dough bread, butter, hot-top quality bread, hard-dough bread and butter, hot patties and meatloaves and grapefruit and milk and shrimps.

The moral role of the Student Council has been made manifest in its massive campaign to boost school-spirit and to help the students to raise the already low morale of the school. Such is the task of the SCHOOL SPIRIT COMMITTEE. Members of the Council also sit on a DISCIPLINARY COMMITTEE, whose function is to assist the disciplinary prefect, acts as a Board of Appeal for students not satisfied with their mode of chastisement.

The Council has run various raffles and in conjunction with the newly founded SPORTS COMMITTEE, has also put on a bingo. The proceeds from these activities will go to the purchase of more sporting facilities, of school amenities such as a water—cooler, prizes for students who have excelled in some sphere of activity for which honours are not conferred at the School's Prize Giving Ceremony.

Outstanding and dedicated students will be named on a proposed HONOURS LIST.

The Council has also made it's annual contribution to the Xmas Toys drive by supervising the collecting of toys at St. Georges.

Bureacratic though it may seem with its groups and committees, the council gets its job done. Under the vigilant guidance of the moderator, Mr. Mckay the Student Council has soared above mere complacency and torpidity and attained heights of practical importance. Thanks to the indomitable efforts of the President, Milton Hardie, the Vice-President, Earl McEachron and the ever efficient Secretary, Paul Davis the Council has never veered off its course towards the betterment of St. Georges College.

PREFECT BODY

First Row: P. Davis, F. Hanna, E. McEachron, A. McDonald, M. Lyn, P. Lukong, K. Williams, M. Hardie, R. Wong, M. Matthews.

REPORT-AGE

THE AGES OF MAN

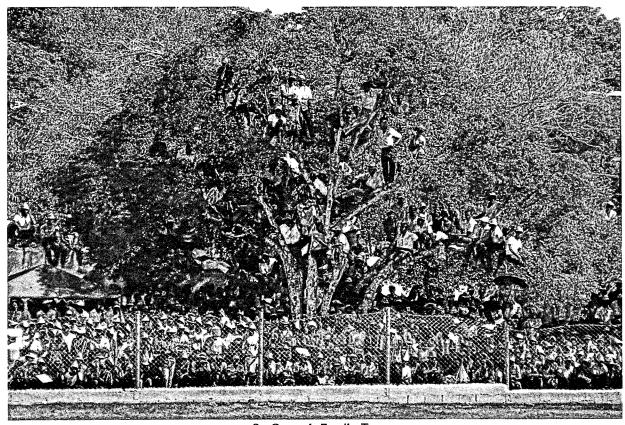

I shall open my tutel-age by explaning that historians try to make sense of the world by dividing history into Ages. The emergence of the sav-age who quickly learns to manage, helped by the woman with cleav-age this leads to marri-age and the baby carri-age. There was the fall of an empire, Carth-age wars (ramp-age and carn-age), and the pastoral delights of vill-age and cott-age.

The triumphs of religion occur in the vicar-age, monastic devotion in the hermit-age. When monks and laymen get away from it all they invented a bagg-age and lugg-age, travelled in steer-age and later in fusel-age.

It was the British who gave the world boiled cabb-age, the German who cooked up saus-age, the French who created pott-age. Having shed light (watt-age, volt-age and amber-age) on this mess of pott-age. I will now enter the twilight of the ad-age. Night falls in the apprend-age, the hero of history suffering from dot-age, conquered by pill-age, drowned in sew-age.

If I made this into a book and it sells out, it would create what an author would never dispar-age: a short-age.

by Philip A. Chang - 3B

St. George's Family Tree.

TWO BROKEN RECORDS

MARK CLARKE

PETER GOODEN

Elegy

Elegy written in a Literacy Class Andrew Mais 2E

I am a man,
A man with a dream,
This is an Island,
An Island with half a million illiterates
I have a mission
To do my part to make every one literate.

I am a man
One man, one hope
As I promote,
Literacy,
I see
Bloated bellies
Clinging helplessly
Pity of the crowd

Oh! God!
Why can't they see?
Are they blind or are they indifferent?
Oh! God!
Let them see the light!

Many people are not here This my first class is empty, People are embarrassed

People are trying,
Trying to get
A little for their young ones to eat.
People are stealing,
Stealing to stay alive,
And we the literate won't help them in any way,
Oh! God help us
God, is this the end?
O God, why God?

P.S.

This is my second week of teaching.

People are responding

To the Prime Minister's call,

My class, is full,

My class is learning,

Thank You God.

Thank you for helping

Help me to continue.

I am trying to go on, but I am overjoyed,

I cannot speak,

Somewhere in this land, a teacher bows his head

And utters tear of joy . . . one step's won!

JUNIOR F

HORM

The One Who Recovered

By Robert A.E. Holmes, 2B

"What is this?", said he.
"Hast thou not money to buy bread?".
"Get away, you dirty begger!

What have I for you?"
"You lie there in the street,
Begging of what's not yours.
Go thou, find a job,
And rid the street of thyself".

"But woe! I have pity on you.
Come you here to me.
Let me bandage those wounds of poverty
With ties of love and brotherhood.
Let it be said: "He is the one who recovered."

A Friend

By Patrick Cunning 2D

Gway Babylon! Gway Beast!

Shouts the angry crowd that surrounds me -

- (1) As I take my last rest with a bullet in my chest
 I show no emotion, but up my spine runs a chilling sensation:
 I look like a bad man, a wild man, wicked and mean.
- (2) But I am not what you think uncivilized, inhuman, and lean; But if you looked at me you would not try to understand me or help me. Instead you would condemn and impede me.
- (3) Because you are one of them.
 A friend I was but as an enemy I die
 He then closes his eyes and he dies.
 With gun in hand he lies doubled up in the streets.
 Gway Babylon! Gway Beast!

POETRY

Protest With Me

By: O. Blaine 2D

The grey evening light
Now shines on my black skin,
But oh Lord, please tell me is blackness a sin,
Should the colour of my skin be held against me,
Though not white but black I am.

Should racial discrimination carry on like this
Or should we live in sweet harmony and bliss,
Why should the white think themselves supreme,
When God made every man to make the scene.
Is colour and creed all that matters,
For they make our peaceful life shatter,
May God give us peace and love to live with one another
And let not black and white fight each other.

Our children are growing in the same simple way Because we the parents are leading them astray O Lord something is holding me back Is it because I am black.

exerces the DANUE

The 1972 edition of the Lance, which was undoubtedly the most successful issue of the magazine, scored a number of firsts, in the history of the school — it was the biggest magazine ever published by the students of St. George's College; it was the first time that the lower form members were given individual photographs; it was one of the few times in which the Lance came out on time and made a profit.

Unfortunately the 1972-73 Lance got off to a late start and it wasn't until early October before all aspects of the book were in full swing. We had some good ideas but we soon realized that a massive job lay ahead of us if we were to live up to the standard set by the previous issue.

Our first major task lay in soliciting enough advertising revenue to cover the cost of publication. At a time when the Government had imposed austerity measures and banned a number of imports, this was by no means an easy task. Many of the companies not only restored to tell us "not this year", "see our agency", or "our budget is finished" as was customary, but also "austerity".

Despite these set-backs we were able to raise the necessary funds through an intensive advertisement campaign spearheaded by our moderator, Fr. Brodley, Paul Chong Yen, Robert Delapenha, and also through the gracious and generous response of parents and quardians in the form of cash contributions.

In view of the personal touch rendered to last year's edition through individual photos for all, we decided to go ahead with the same procedure, but this time on our own. This gigantic task was undertaken by the photography editor, Jonathan Wong and his assistants Tyrone Lyn and John Chang. They performed remarkably well considering they were not professionals. On yet another occasion "Johnny" and his staff, to whom we are so indebted, bailed us out of a sticky situation created by a certain "professional" who had left his "job" unfinished.

Incidentally, this year saw another "first", for the "Lance" in that we had 2nd, formers on the team-notably Michael Wong and Pat Cunning in photography and Kurt Lee in business.

Layout was no easy job either. This team, led by Tyrone Morrison and Patrick Garel performed fairly well, spending many an afternoon laying out pages and pasting up pictures. The literary staff in particular had a difficult time turning in the fifth form and 2nd. 6th form captions.

The most difficult task of all, however, was the coordination of all the various sections to make things run smoothly. Getting the editors to turn their work in on time wasn't easy but somehow Paul and "Dela" managed to get the work completed.

With only one week before "press-time" we're all tired but we have accomplished something of which we can all be proud. It wouldn't have been the same without the clashes and disagreements but we've shown that through teamwork we can accomplish what we had set out to do.

And finally we take this opportunity of extending an invitation to all students, particularly those talented in photography and art, to participate with us in making it even better in '74.

The Lance in Action

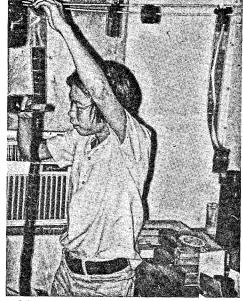

Wesley Atkinson and Paul Chong Yen pasting up lower form photographs.

Norman Gray and Eric Ramsay take time out at lunch to work on the upper form captions.

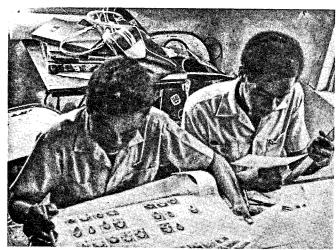

John Chang and Tyrone Lyn at work in the darkroom.

Johnathan Wong wipes negative after developing.

Fr. Brodley finds some photographs amusing.

Anthony East and Tyrone Morrison examining the lower form layouts.

LANCE PATRONS

The Lance is most grateful to old-boys, parents, and friends who make possible this the student annual publication. Present students, and especially the Lance staff, express our sincere appreciation.

Superstars

Mr. and Mrs. Neville Chen See

Dr. and Mrs. H.C. Dyer

Mr. and Mrs. A.J. Johnson

Mr. Pat Lopez

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy B. Lukong

Mr. and Mrs. T. Lyew

Mr. and Mrs. L. Sykes

Mr. and Mrs. Christopher W. Wilson

Bosses

Mr. and Mrs. R.O. Chai Chang

Mr. and Mrs. C.P. Chong

Mr. and Mrs. C. Hoo

Mr. and Mrs. J. Lee Hing

Mr. Douglas A. McFarlane

Mr. and Mrs. E.E. Munro

Mr. and Mrs. G. Sykes

Billings Furniture Store

Derrick C. Chang & Associates

Wilson Chung & Sons

Diamond Mineral Water Co. Ltd.

Smiles Engineering Works

Stanley Vaz & Co.

Boosters

Mr. M.A. Berry

Mr. Lester Billings

Mr. and Mrs. R.A. Brown

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Chang

Mr. and Mrs. R. Chaplin

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Chen

Mr. and Mrs. William Chung

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hohn

Mrs. Yvonne Holmes

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Ho Shin

Mr. Wilbert E. Johnson

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Lee

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Martin

Mr. and Mrs. A. Miller

Mr. Rudolph Muir

Mr. and Mrs. David Muirhead

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pat Tenn

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Thompson

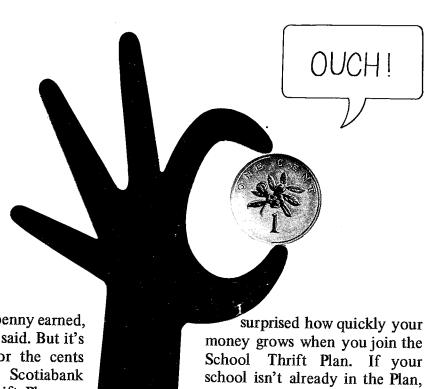

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Watkins

Mr. and Mrs. E. Yapp

Mr. and Mrs. S. Yapp

Lee's Department Store

BEANY-PENCHER

A penny saved is a penny earned, as our grandparents said. But it's more than that. For the cents you save in the Scotiabank Jamaica School Thrift Plan can accumulate into an interestearning bank account. You'll be Save today for success tomorrow.

talk to your teacher about getting one started.

SCOTIABANK JAMAICA

the Person to Person Bank

CEDAR WOOD

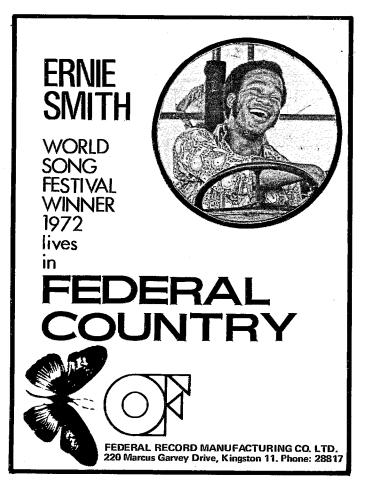

Available wherever better cosmetics are sold.

"Discover how your hair can become beautiful today." Get Dixie Peach.

Distributed by Cosmetics International Ltd.

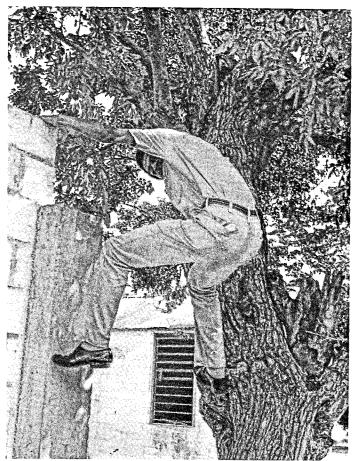

A Where She go

Have your Graflex Audio Visual Centre Set up for you by

Photo Centre

131 King Street Phone: 93-24998

The Higher the monkey climb, the more him expose.

You've Never Had it So Good.

Breakfast, lunches and dinners at prices you can afford in Kingston's newest and most conveniently situated restaurant and soda fountain.

Daily budget specials, steaks, chops and chicken ... taste-tempting sundaes, shakes, sodas and floats ... Ample parking.

"It's a better place to eat."

69 KNUTSFORD BOULEVARD, NEW KINGSTON, TEL. 93-64789

With the Compliments

of

TASTEE LIMITED

MAKERS OF TASTEE PATTIES

25a Half Way Tree Road. Kingston 5. Tel: 92-62834

With the Compliments

of

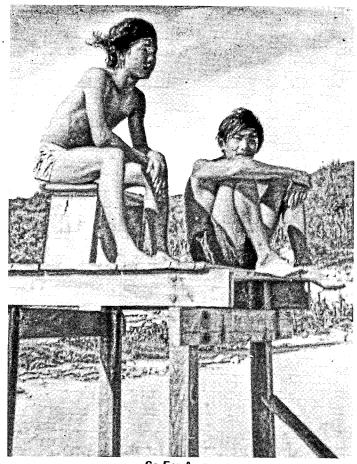

FROZEN FOODS

Distributed by H.M Brandon & Co. Limited

With the Compliments of

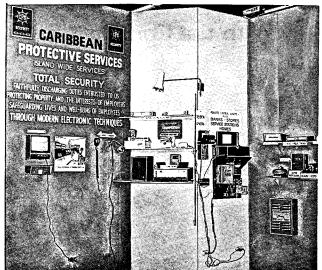

SUNBEAM BAKERY

39 WALTHAM PARK ROAD PHONE: 37595 81833

So Far Away

Let C.P.S.move into your premises before you do

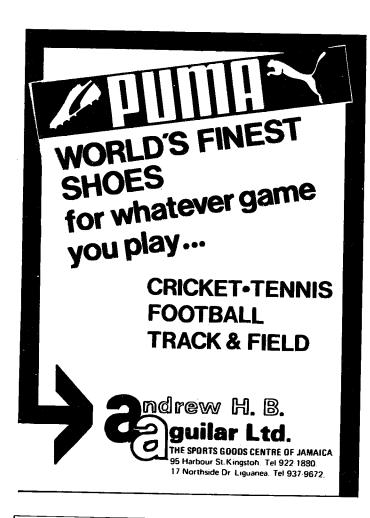

It's always a smart thing to be prepared by thinking ahead. Take the question of security of your premises for instance. Do you wait until there has been a hold up, a burglary, a fire, before you do something about it? Then there is the drilling of masonry, unnecessary inconvenience and the losses already incurred.

You can avoid all this by calling C P S for consultation while your building is still in progress. C P S are leaders in modern security and can advise, supply and install and maintain just about any electronic security equipment you need. Be it Closed Circuit TV, Access Controlls, Automatic Burglar and fire Sensor Systems, Perimeter Controls, Photo Electric Systems.....

So if you are putting up a building, remember it is safer and cheaper to let C P S move in before you do.

CARIBBEAN PROTECTIVE SERVICES

19 Ruthven Road, Kingston 10, Tel. 926-1250 or 926-3600 Caribbean Protective Services working with Jamaica's Police Force to ensure your safety.

IT'S SMART TO BE THRIFTY

Downtown: 70b King St.

Uptown The Village

Phones: 922-3840 922-4852

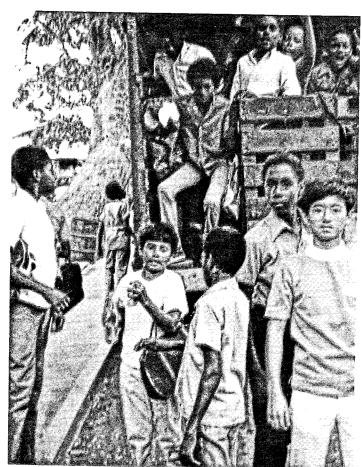

With the Compliments

of

S.P.C.K. BOOK SHOP

70b KING STREET. KINGSTON.

PHONE 922-4056.

Cattle Train

with Compliments

Looking forward to the 80's

The Seventies are young, but our achievements so far have us looking forward to the Eighties with enthusiasm, planning with confidence...Already the Seventies have seen our Millionth policy and our 100th District Office bringing our unique service to people with faith in the future in over 30 countries.

> That's what gives us the right to say BRITISH AMERICAN for people with Faith in the Future.

"World-Wide Home Service"
Caribbean Division Home Office: Knutsford Boulevard Kingston 5, Jamaica. Phone 926-3160 for people with faith in the future

WITH THE COMPLIMENTS

OF

R.A. Mc Kenzie & Co., Ltd.

16 Church Street, Kingston Phone: 922-7417

Hi From Nagga Head.

From the beginning the "Dreadest"

Don't quit while you're ahead.

WITH THE COMPLIMENTS OF

TROPIC PHARMACY LTD.

Prescriptions filled

Cosmetics, Gift Items, Etc. Cafeteria & Soda Fountain

> Tropical Plaza, Kingston 10, Phone: 926-7289

You've made it this far with your education—why stop?
Sure it's tough—studying every night, riting papers, taking exams.

But look at what you've accor

And think of what you could accomplish if you stuck with it a little longer. So don't quit while you're ahead. Stay in school. Read. Study. Learn as much as you can It's more fun to be ahead than behind.

With the compliments of

All Esso Men in Jamaica have one thing in common.

They got good by getting dirty! Because your Jamaican Esso man isn't content to just take your order and deliver the goods.

He's ready, willing and able to roll up his sleeves and get his hands dirty to make sure the Esso Petroleum Products he sells you are absolutely right for the job.

And he's willing to crawl under a bulldozer or climb on a crane if that's where your problem is.

So next time you see your Esso man neatly dressed, don't get the impression that he avoids the dirty work. If your problem happens to be a greasy piece of machinery that won't work, he's willing to get under it and find out why. It goes with his job.

We got good by getting dirty.

with the compliments

of

PLASTIC INDUSTRIES LTD.

MANUFACTURERS OF

POLY BAGS SHOPPING BAGS GARBAGE BAGS etc.

49 Main Street May Pen Clarendon

Tel: 986-2570

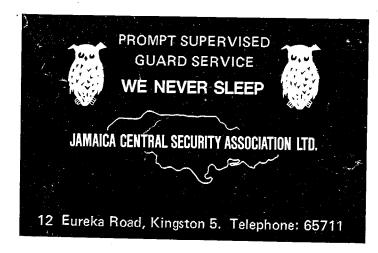

With the Compliments of

MICHAEL L.MING & CO.,LTD.

24B MAIN STREET MAY PEN CLARENDON Tel: 986-2489

Mom is a mother.

If you ever try taking a puppy out of a new litter - watch out. Mom will bite. It's the protective instinct Mothers have. To protect you against life's bullies. To pick you up, dust you off, heal the bruises and set you on your feet again. Smiling.

We at Motor Owners Mutual, MOM for short, protect you against some of life's biggest bullies - fires, hurricanes, floods, earthquakes, burglars, loss of profits, accidents and many others that are likely to threaten you. We can't prevent them from getting to you, but we will pick you up, dust you off, heal the bruises and set you on your feet again. Smiling. With a very personal touch. Without delay.

No Mom can do more.

We do have to make a small charge for this protection. Smaller than most people, more often than not. But didn't your Mom ever ask you to dust the furniture? Or wash the dishes? A small price to pay for a lot of protection. And a lot of good advice.

You'd think with a name like ours that we'd sell Motor Vehicle Insurance. We do. But that's just the beginning. There's a whole lot more to MOM. It's our name. And our nature.

Come to Mom.

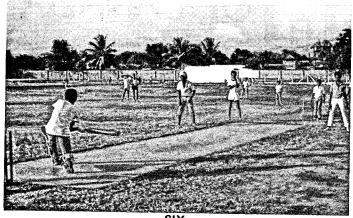

First Prize Winner 3 Consecutive Years Of The Best Kept Restaurant Contest

> & COCKTAIL LOUNGE or for SNACKS Try Our Coffee Shop & Kerb Service

DIAL 926-8864

TROPICAL PLAZA (10)

With the Compliments of

FONG TOM LTD.

WITH THE COMPLIMENTS

OF

Continental House

16 North Parade Phone: 932-2354 with the compliments of WILLIAMSON (JA.)LTD.

35A Balmoral Ave., Kgn. 10 Phone: 67666

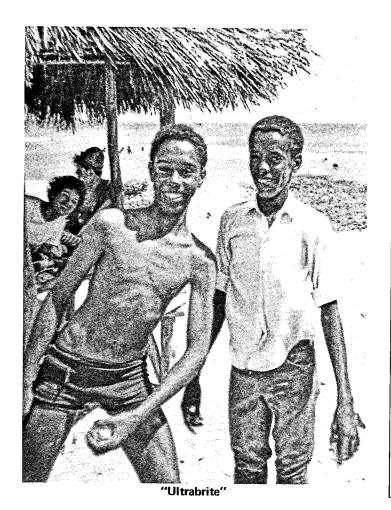

FIRE PREVENTION EQUIPMENT

with the compliments of

NATIONAL LIFE OF CANADA

10 Grenada Crescent Tel: 929-5340 Kgn. 5.

Shoes & More Shoes at evolici's

Twin Gates

Phone: 66429.

Authorised Sub-Agents for Kingston Industrial Garage.

113 BARRY STREET, Tel:27134 @ 24966

With the Compliments

of

Leonard I. Chang (Engineers) Ltd.

67a Half Way Tree Road. P.O. Box 209, Kingston 10, Jamaica, W.I.

Phone: 936-3300

With the Compliments of

Joongwah Restaurant

130 Old Hope Road Kingston 6, Jamaica

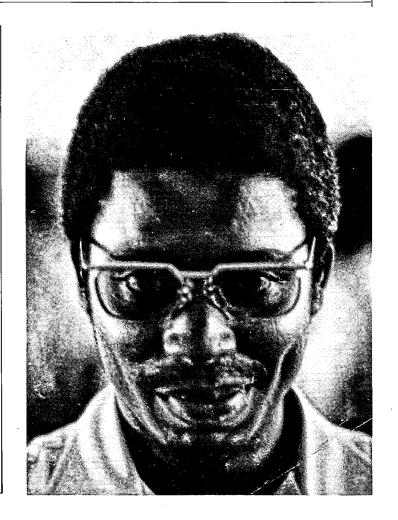

Telephone:927-8185

WITH THE COMPLIMENTS OF

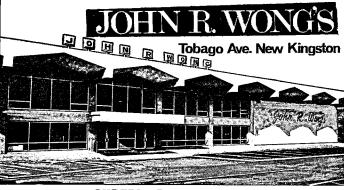

BRASSIERE CO. LTD.

94 King St., KINGSTON TELEPHONE: 932-4557

Man Life Hard, Y'See

STILL JAMAICA'S MOST MODERN SUPERMARKET

SUPERMARKETS

- Harbour View Shopping Centre
- 147/2 Windward Rd.
- 105 Barry St.

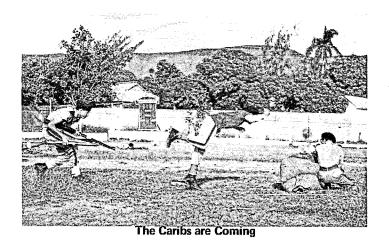

With the Compliments

of

Apex Betting Co. Ltd.

4B HALF-WAY-TREE RD.

Phones: 936-6704, 926-8455

With the Compliments

of

VIEIRA & D'RANE

31 Old Hope Rd. Kingston 5.

Representing Carifta and Local Manufacturers Tel: 64884

With the Compliments of

JAMAICA TRAVEL SERVICE

FOR COMPLETE TRAVEL ARRANGEMENTS

> 12½ CONSTANT SPRING ROAD. TROPICAL PLAZA KINGSTON 10. PHONE: 926-8055, 926-8040

We'll take good care of students too.

When last have you been to the OXFORD?

OXFORD PHARMACY

means "SO MANY THINGS TO SO MANY PEOPLE"

With the Compliments

of

SURREY PACRERS
LTD.

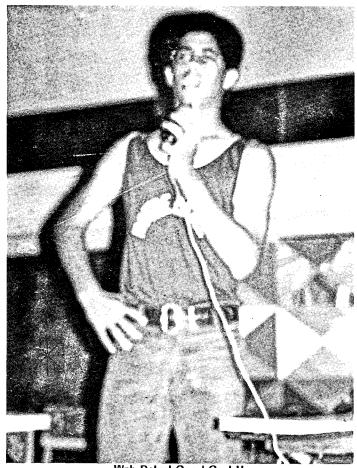

100 Matthews Lane, Kingston, Phone: 25114

with the compliments

of

Shell Company (W.I.) Limited

IMPERIAL LIFE BUILDING
NEW KINGSTON

Wah Baby! Good Gosh!!

MAKE SURE IT'S MARKED

ELECTRIC & SOLAR WATER HEATERS
HOT WATER DISPENSERS FOR OFFICES & CANTEENS METAL LADDERS
BUILDERS HARDWARE:— LOCKS, HINGES, ETC.
E.P.N.S. CUTLERY & HOLLOWARE
STAIMLESS STEEL CUTLERY & HOLLOWARE

ELECTROPLATING:— GOLD • SILVER • COPPER
• BRASS • CHROME • NICKLE
PROFESSIONAL & HOUSEHOLD KITCHEN KNIVES & TOOLS
GALVANIZED BARBED WIRE
WIRE NAILS • STAPLES • PAPER CLIPS

CORRUGATED & INDUSTRIAL PROFILE ALUMINIUM ROOFING NON-PIERCED CONTINUOUS INTERLOCK ALUMINIUM ROOFING ALUMINIUM SHINGLES

With the Compliments

of

our sister Jesuit school

Campion College

105 Hope Road Kingston 6

PHONE: 79458

With the Compliments

of

P.K. SHOE CO., LTD.

133 Windward Rd., Kingston 2

WITH THE COMPLIMENTS OF

WITH THE COMPLIMENTS

OF

WEST INDIES GLASS CO.,LTD.

1 Ashenheim Road East Kingston 11

Phone: 923-7216

Gate House: 923-7227

With the Compliments

of

Clieveden Court Hotel Motel & Apartments

19 Clieveden Ave Kingston 6 Phone: 937-9917, 937-9918

Ban

With the Compliments

Of

Mamhattam House

Kingston

25 West Parade

118 Harbour Street

90 Upper King Street

Mandeville: 4B Manchester Road

May-Pen:

2B Chapelton Road

For: Lee Jeans

Vilana Banlons Ladies Sportswear

Phones: 929-1200, 929-1201, 932-3756

When it comes to 20",24"&30" Gas Stoves, Hotplates and Water Heaters...

TROPIGAS makes the BIG difference!

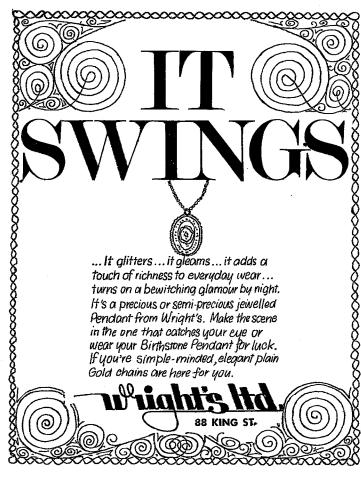

The Tropical Gas Company, Inc. 41a Half-Way-Tree Road Tel: 936-2190 And its Distributors throughout Jamaica

WITH THE COMPLIMENTS OF

71 HARBOUR STREET, KINGSTON, JAMAICA. TELEPHONE 932-3340

IT PAYS TO BE INSURED WITH A

GENERAL ACCIDENT Company

Brandon & Bolton (Insurance) Limited

ATTORNEYS & AGENTS IN JAMAICA FOR

The General Accident Fire & Life Assurance Corporation Ltd.

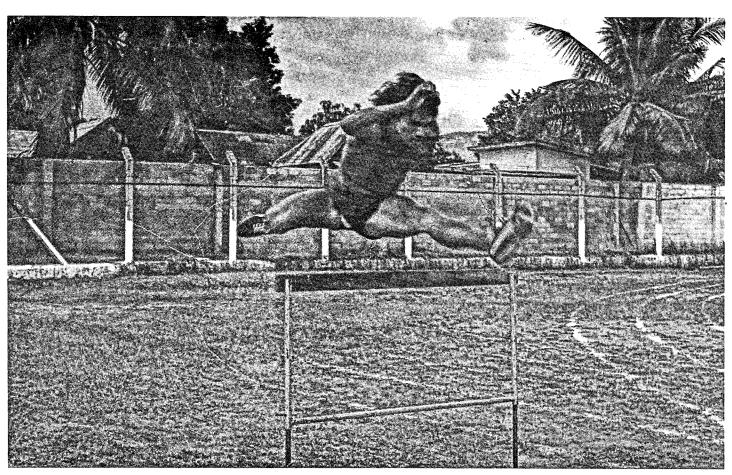

45 DUKE STREET - KINGSTON

TELEPHONE 23868

With the Compliments of

Lindo Lai Fatt & Co.

59-61 PRINCESS ST. Phone 932-3729.

Renown on the Horizon

Milo makes you feel so good.

NESTEE LO TAGESTAL TA

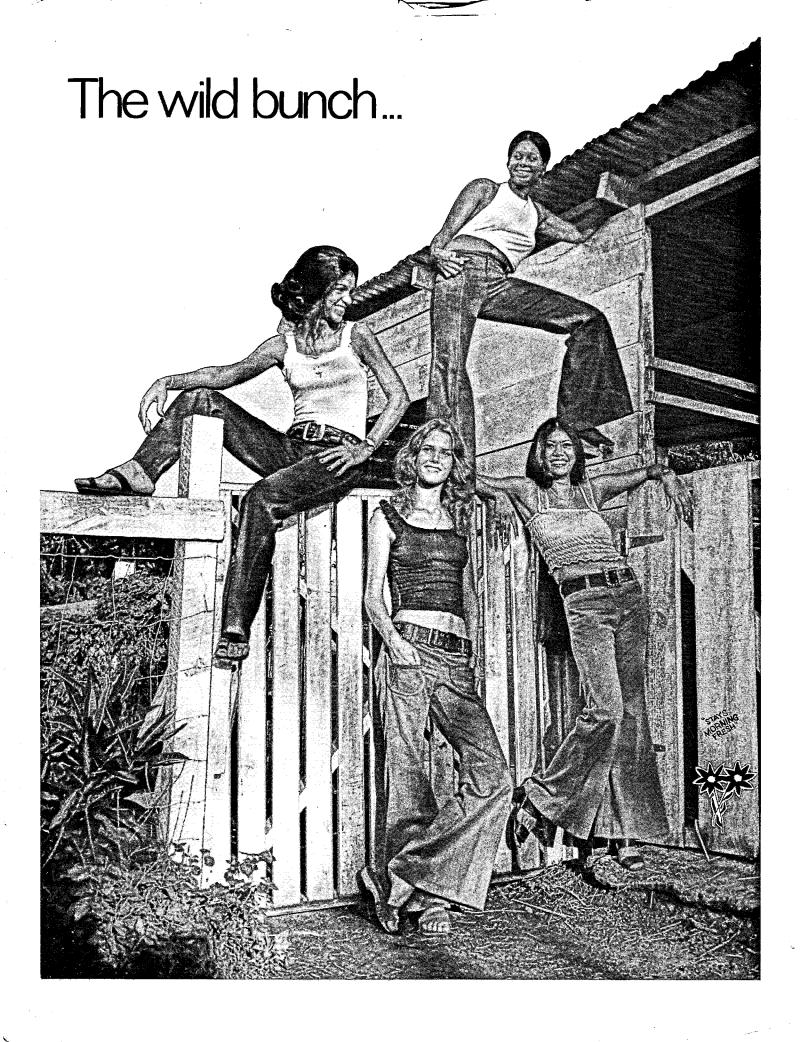

Distributed by JAMAICA MILK PRODUCTS LIMITED, KINGSTON

with the compliments of Paramount Betting Ltd.

109-111 Barry St. Kingston.

Phone: 20470

from the stables of Fashion

FABULOUS SHRINK-TOPS AND JEANS TO RUN WILD IN... CREATED BY HI-FASHION

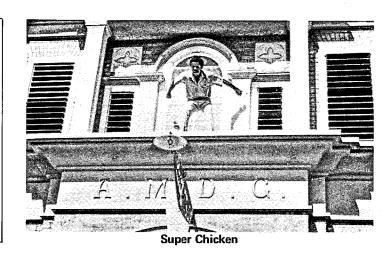

With the Compliments

of

PALOMINO CIGAR CO.

Don Edmund Cigar

110 Orange Street

Save at First Chicago Bank.

You can open a savings account with $2.

The First National Bank of Chicago (Jamaica) Limited

Head Office: Corner Duke and Barry Streets, Kingston.

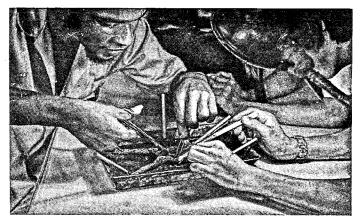

Branches: 29 Constant Spring Road, Kingston 10. 95 Maxfield Avenue, Kingston 13.

Choose Builders Aluminium for beauty and service

- * ENTRANCE DOORS
- * STORE FRONTS and PARTITIONS
- * SLIDING DOORS
- * GLASS LOUVRES
- * REDWOOD LOUVRES
- * SLIDING WINDOWS

BUILDERS ALUMINIUM LTD.

9 ELSPETH AVE. KINGSTON 16 PHONE: 923-8829, 933-7387

Dr. Gooden Critislicing legs

WITH THE COMPLIMENTS

OF

Caribbean Tours (Ja.) Travel Agency

21 Church St. Phone: 932-1905

STUDENTS MEAN A LOT TO I.C.D.

The ICD Group of Companies offer a wide range of interesting and worthwhile career opportunities to suitably qualified students in the fields of Manufacturing, Marketing & Finance. Write to the:-

Personnel Manager, Industrial Commercial Developments Limited

7 – 9 Harbour Street Kingston

ICD CAN MEAN A LOT TO STUDENTS

Saint George's College Extension School

Pioneers in Adult Education

Promoters
of

Continuing, Ongoing,

Lifelong Education

TEL: AFTER 4:00 ON CLASS DAYS 23744 OTHER TIMES 95560

with the compliments of

HOLE IN THE WALL LTD.

(A NAME TO RECALL)

130 Harbour Street 6 King Street Kingston Phone 929-5000, 932-5307

FOR PROMPT EFFICIENT SERVICE

REGGIE'S SHELL SERVICE STATIONS

8-10 Half Way Tree Road, Kingston 5 Phone: 92-66892

Dealers in Shell Products and Automobile Accessories.

Specialists in Shellubrication Services.

HOME DELIVERY SERVICE –
30 LB CYLINDERS SHELLANE

"IN SERVICE WE SERVE"

THE LANCE . . Before Birth

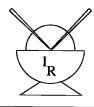

WITH THE COMPLIMENTS

OF

International Restaurant

116 Barry Street, KINGSTON

"WHERE THE FOOD IS BEST"

With the Compliments

of

Peter DuQuesnay Investments Ltd.

72B Hope Road Kingston 6

Compliments of

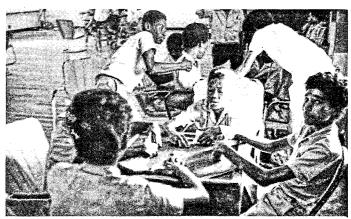

CMP ELECTRIC LTD

SUPPLIERS OF EVERYTHING IN LIGHTING

231 Marcus Garvey Drive Kingston 11.

atlas

Telephone: 37072 - 37073

Ah so wi Stay

With the Compliments of

ST. GEORGE'S COLLEGE

CANTEEN

CONCESSIONAIRE

With the Compliments of

WILLIAM N. MEEKS CO.

3-5 Orange Street Kingston.

The Magnificent "7" Rest.

With the Compliments of

3 OFFICES IN KINGSTON TO SERVE YOU BETTER

- 49 ORANGE STREET, KINGSTON. TEL. 922-6840
- LANE PLAZA, LIGUANEA, KGN. 6. TEL. 937-9926
- THE VILLAGE, C. SP. ROAD, KGN. 10. TEL. 936-4911

With the Compliments

of

Peter DuQuesnay Investments Ltd.

72B Hope Road Kingston 6

Compliments of

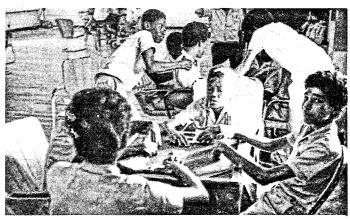

CMP ELECTRIC LTD

SUPPLIERS OF EVERYTHING IN LIGHTING

231 Marcus Garvey Drive Kingston 11.

atlas

Telephone: 37072 - 37073

Ah so wi Stay

With the Compliments of

ST. GEORGE'S COLLEGE

CANTEEN

CONCESSIONAIRE

With the Compliments of

WILLIAM N. MEEKS CO.

3-5 Orange Street Kingston.

The Magnificent "7" Rest.

With the Compliments of

3 OFFICES IN KINGSTON TO SERVE YOU BETTER

- 49 ORANGE STREET, KINGSTON. TEL. 922-6840
- LANE PLAZA, LIGUANEA, KGN. 6. TEL. 937-9926
- THE VILLAGE, C. SP. ROAD, KGN. 10. TEL. 936-4911

LA PETITE VENETIENNE - the NEW, SLIM, HIGH-FASHION Venetian Blind. Designed to give complete light control, a simple, exclusive Finger-tip Wand Control angles the louvres smoothly and effortlessly.

Slender Terylene Fiber Cord connections between the SLIM ONE-INCH WIDE louvres are barely visible; and there are no tapes to detract from its beauty. Louvres are spring tempered aluminium with a Durable Enamel Finish. An occasional wipe with a damp cloth keeps them looking like new.

Created to hug Windows and Doors Tightly, they are CUSTOM MADE to fit any size......Beautifully. Available in an array of Decorator Colors to harmonize perfectly with modern wall tones.

Designed for contemporary living . . .

La Petite Venetienne, slim venetian blinds!

Call or write for information:

Manufactured By

1 RANDOLPH AVE. KINGSTON 5, JAMAICA W.I. Telephone: 92-65471

With the Compliments

7 Trinidad Terrace, Kingston 5, Jamaica, West Indies.

Telephone: 936-3561, 926-1160, 926-1161.

with the compliments of

IDEAL

BETTING CO., LTD.

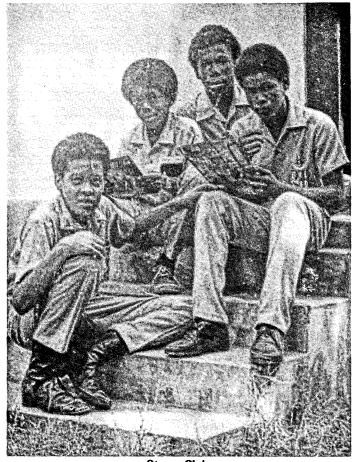

HEAD OFFICE 117 KING STREET PHONES 22841 - 23730

With the Compliments

of

Caribbean Construction Co., Ltd.

P.O. BOX 57 KINGSTON

Stamp Club

Compliments of

DESNOES & GEDDES LTD.

The House of Fine Refreshment

With the

Compliments of

H.I.HENRIQUES LTD.

15A Old Hope Rd. Kingston 5

Phone: 93-61364

With the Compliments of

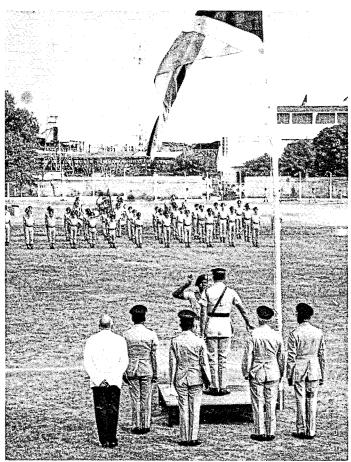

WITH THE COMPLIMENTS

OF

LLOYD'S OF JAMAICA LTD.

72A King St. KINGSTON

A Uniformed Georges.

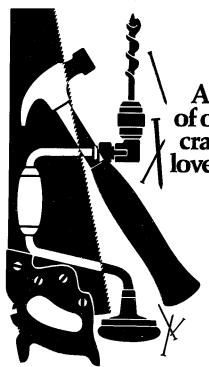

WITH THE COMPLIMENTS

OF

WILBROS, LTD.

45-47 DUNROBIN AVENUE

SKgn. 10

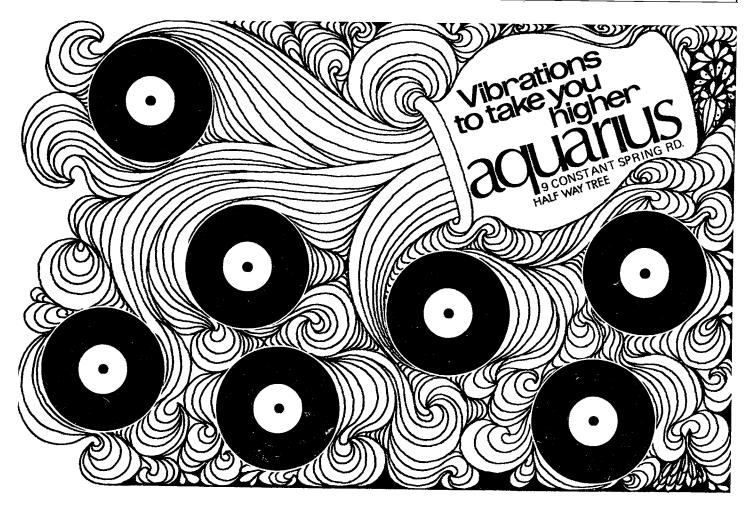

A display of oldfashioned craftsmanship, love and timeless furniture

Don't you ever feel nostalgic about the good old days? When a man did a day's work for a day's pay — and for the emotional satisfaction of a job well done? At Jamaican Heritage we've maintained the tradition of craftsmanship and pride. Our craftsmen belong to the old school. They work not only with their hands but with their heads and hearts. Every item of furniture that bears the Jamaican Heritage name represents the skill and care of dedicated workmen. Yet our production methods are as modern as today, devised to produce the very best furniture at the best possible prices. And our styles never go out of style. Jamaican Heritage furniture is an investment that you'll be glad you made — years from now, when "the good old days" you dream of will be today.

KINGSTON: 'Heritage House', 29 Constant Spring Road, Phone: 936-7720 MONTEGO BAY: Westgate Plaza, Phone 952-2671

FOOD FOR THOUGHT & TUMMY

When you order dishes from Golden Dragon, you get some nice extras at no extra cost.

For instance, if your order is over $5, we give you a handy pack of Kellys soft drinks for free. If you live in Kingston 6, there is no charge for delivery (outside of Kingston 6, there is a 50c delivery fee, understandingly).

So the next time you want delicious dishes delivered to your home or office, call Golden Dragon. Think of all the things you get. And your plate and purse and tummy will be grateful.

Winston & Daphne's

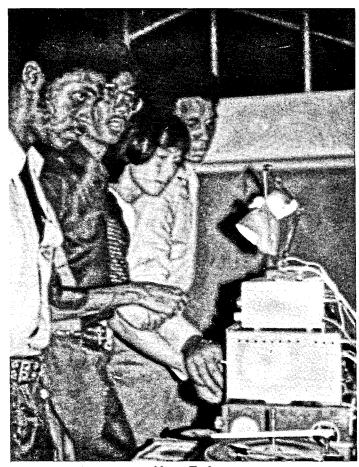

9 Mona Plaza, Kingston 6. Telephone: 927-0809.

With the Compliments

of

carpets & drapes ltd.

9c Retirement Crescent Kingston 5 Telephone 63386

Yours Truly